AN EDITORIAL

What's A Leader

The news of a shining big group of freshmen -- the men and women of the Class of 1970 is fascinating. They are bright young folks, healthy ones, eager and impatient. Many of their parents, teachers and neighbors are saying: "Ah, yes, there they go--off to college to become the leaders of tomorrow." True, some of them will become leaders in our relatively open leadership system in United States society. What should be of concern to us all is, the process by which some of these will be determined, but more importantly -- the kind of preparation they will find at a great university.

Not much longer ago than one year, John W. Gardner left the presidency of Carnegie Corporation to become secretary of health education welfare in the cabinet. Just prior to that change he wrote an essay on leadership and we looked at it to see what predictions he might have included about young peoples' opportunities to become leaders. He said, "... leadership in the U.S. is not based on caste or class, nor even on wealth." Also, "... leadership is dispersed among a great many groups in our society." Very few of our most prominent people, he believes, take a really large view of where our society is heading, or of what major trends determine our future or what we should be doing about the major trends. In fact, says he, most folks avoid the leadership assignment and are simply tending the machinery of that part of society to which they belong. And, he states, "The cure is not to work against the fragmentation of leadership... but to create better channels of communication among significant leadership groups, especially in connection with the great issues..." But, "... we are immunizing a high proportion of our most gifted young people against any tendencies to leadership."

The proof offered is reasonable. Life is a bit more complex in a crowded population. Young folks are aware of being anonymous members of a mass. How to exercise leadership is not a clearly visible process and so it is thought to be exceedingly intricate. Bright students may be discouraged or even carefully schooled to avoid leadership, because intellectually gifted ones go from college directly to graduate school or into professional schools. There the indoctrinated attitudes are the ones appropriate to scholars, scientists, and professional men. Good! Not good, however, beyond the purely professional tasks -- for the broadening of interests; instead rather narrowing and technical. "The academic world may appear to want to educate the technical expert who advises the leader, not the leader himself."

Where is the broad moral leadership -- the articulation of cherished values of our society? So much energy may be devoted simply to "tending the machinery of our complex society" that the heading may be obscured, and the ambition of a motivated and capable leader may be quashed.

Thank goodness for the traditions in songs, in customs, in newspapers; for the continuation of military training and of fraternity and sorority self government, of debating groups and student clubs. It may be in these, or just possibly in the classroom, that the leaders will be identified and will be motivated and will succeed to the places of real eminence where they will be needed. Let us resolve that they learn to express the values that hold society together, and that they conceive goals which can lift people out of petty preoccupations.

Welcome, members of 1970! Be ambitious! Learn to become leaders!

—Russ Woolley

Dr. Monroe Romansky '33 (center) met with long-time friends Stan (Wally) Wallace (left) and William Wells '31 at the Homecoming banquet where he was honored as the second recipient of the Career Award.

Monroe James Romansky '33 was honored with the second alumni Career Award during Homecoming. The first Career Award recipient was Louis Schweitzer '19. The citation for Dr. Romansky's award is as follows:

"For the honor brought to Maine by a man's active interests and achievements out of his business and professional career, the General Alumni Association of the University of Maine cites an individual this year. It is the second successive year for a person to be named Man of the Year and a recipient of a Career Award.

"Monroe Romansky was a fullback on the varsity football team at the University of Maine. He was also a basketball player during his undergraduate years, and was active on many committees of the student body. He was a member of the Sophomore Owls, of the Senior Skulls and of Tau Epsilon Phi Fraternity. He graduated with a degree in Zoology in the year 1933.

"An outstanding scientist, a discoverer of new uses for penicillin and streptomycin, the author of articles and monographs in medical journals, and a recipient of the Legion of Merit Award from the United States government, are all personal facts in this outstanding man's biography.

"Monroe Romansky is a second-generation American. His parents emigrated from the USSR and came to the United States. Dr. Romansky was born in Hartford, Connecticut. He graduated from Weaver High School in Hartford, and then after his days at the University of Maine, he earned his MD at the University of Rochester, in 1937. He interned in medicine at Strong Memorial Hospital in New York. From 1939 to 1940, he was a Gleason Research Fellow at Rochester.

"With these accomplishments, Dr. Romansky was realizing a goal that he had set for himself while a lad at Weaver High School at Hartford. At that time he said "I have never thought of anything except earning a place in medicine where I could make lasting contributions for the better health of mankind." He was married in 1943 to the former Evelyn Lackman and they have four sons.

"He served during World War II in the Medical Corps of the Army of the United States. From 1942 to 1945 he was engaged in research in the use of penicillin at the Army Medical Center, Washington, D.C. His research constituted distinguished service because with his professional skill and devotion to duty he brought about great improvements in the techniques of the administration of that antibiotic, particularly for saving lives and alleviating suffering. At Walter Reed Hospital, Dr. Romansky evolved a method of administering penicillin which successfully cut down its absorption rate in the human body, causing the patient little discomfort and providing a certainty of longer lasting action of the medicine. This early research led to the discovery of a cheaper and faster method of treatment of patients and particularly patients suffering from venereal disease. At the time of his return to inactive duty from the Army of the United States, he held the rank of Major, Medical Corps.

"Nor were his activities in service to the United States all of the matters for which he has deserved and received recognition. In 1950, he was named the outstanding graduate of Weaver High School of Hartford. He also received at the 38th convention of the National Fraternity, Tau Epsilon Phi, its Founders Award Key. This award was given for outstanding contributions to medicine.

"Dr. Romansky is a member of the College of Physicians, and of the American Medical Association and is also a consultant at many hospitals in the capital region and is professor and chief of medicine, George Washington University, Medical Division, Washington, D.C.

"In 1952, Dr. Romansky, then associate professor of medicine at the George Washington University, acting as consultant in internal medicine to the Surgeon General of the U.S. Army made a six weeks tour of army hospitals and installations in Germany and in Austria. He also spoke while in Europe before the Royal Society of Medicine in London, the Geneva Medical Society in Switzerland and the Pasteur Institute in Paris. Dr. Romansky, who makes his home with his family at 6609 32nd Place NW in Washington, is a widely known man of medicine and is listed in American Men of Science, the tenth edition.

"In 1960, under the State Department's direction, Dr. Romansky addressed an audience in Sao Paulo, Brazil, while making his study of South American medical facilities.

"In memory of this date, Dr. Romansky, and in our salutation to you, we wish also for you to have an electric clock inscribed with your name and bearing an appropriate photograph from the University of Maine campus.

"In recognition of the many outstanding honors already received and for his superlative contributions as a member of learned professional and scientific organizations, it is an honor to the General Alumni Association of the University of Maine, to cite this doctor's activities and achievements and to claim him as award recipient in the second year of the Career Award and to name him Man of 1966."

Nominations for all Alumni awards are welcome at any time and should be made to the General Alumni Association, 44 Fogler Library, Orono, Maine 04473.

The Alumni Service Emblem, awarded once each year at the spring alumni banquet, is given for meritorious and outstanding alumni service rendered through the GAA.

The "M" awards are made throughout the year and recognize alumni activity that develops strong and active goodwill for the University.

And, nominations can be made at any time for next fall's Career Award recipient and for the Black Bear Awards.

Three Awarded Black Bears

Black Bear Awards were presented at Homecoming to three loyal supporters of the University of Maine, Walter W. (Pete) Crane, Royal G. Higgins, Jr. '17, and Joseph M. Murray '25.

Pete Crane is the enthusiastic caretaker of the University athletic fields, Royal Higgins is an extremely active alumnus, and Joe Murray is the long-time dean of the College of Arts and Sciences.

The citation for Crane noted, "An enthusiastic fan and close personal friend to many Maine athletes over the years, this man has adopted the University as his alma mater."

He will have been with the University athletic department 10 years in February. Before that, he worked for Maine Central and drove all the Black Bears sports teams when they took to the road over a period of 13 years.

A native of Whiting and graduate of Dennysville High School, Pete is now a resident of Brewer, but he spends as much time on the Maine campus as he does at home and never with a complaint.

In citing Higgins, it was noted that, "Roy has been an outstanding worker, contributor and loyal Homecoming alumnus for most of the 49 years since he was here."

Higgins has supported the Western Massachusetts Alumni

Association at Springfield, the Black Bear Club of Western Massachusetts, and the Graduate M-Club, in addition to giving much time to committees and fund-raising campaigns.

Now retired from Paine, Webber, Jackson, and Curtis, Royal Higgins is a former varsity football quarterback at Maine. While at Maine, he was president of the Skulls and of his junior class.

Dr. Murray's citation noted, "Not only did Dean Murray serve a rapidly increasing enrollment of the largest college of the University very capably . . . , but he made his talents useful to alumni organizations."

He was treasurer of the Memorial Union Building Fund, has been president of the Penobscot County University of Maine Alumni, and frequently speaks for student and alumni causes.

An outstanding scholar while a student at Maine, Dr. Murray became head of the zoology department at Maine in 1934 and was appointed dean of arts and sciences in 1941. During World War II he reached the rank of major while serving his country in the army and recently returned to teaching after 21 years as dean of the College of Arts and Sciences.

JOHN HUARD (32) BLOCKS PUNT FOR TD AGAINST RHODE ISLAND

Maine Explodes On Homecoming

John Huard, Maine's Little All-America linebacker, picked the best possible occasion to make his claim to the title of the Black Bears' finest football player in history.

Performing before nearly 9,000 Homecoming fans, many of whom had previously worn the Maine uniform on the gridiron, Huard scored two touchdowns, unheard of for a defensive player, in Maine's 21-6 victory over Rhode Island.

The victory was a bright point in what has generally been a depressing season for Maine. The victory gave Maine a 2-4 record and the Black Bears were left in the position of having to win their four remaining games to post a winning record.

In previous games, Maine had lost to Massachusetts, 10-7; lost to Boston University, 20-7; defeated Bucknell, 7-6; lost to New Hampshire, 10-7; and lost to Connecticut, 20-19. Remaining games were against Colby Oct. 29, at Youngstown Nov. 5, and against Vermont Nov. 12.

Against Rhode Island, Huard blocked a punt in the first period and ran 12 yards with the ball for his first TD. In the final period, Huard, who had previously returned another interception 43 yards, ran an interception back 29 yards to a touchdown.

Two members of Maine's outstanding defensive unit accounted for the other TD in the first period. Norm Tardiff, a fine defensive safety, returned a punt 20 yards to the URI 33 and Paul Keany, the other defensive safety who doubles on offense, finally scored on a five-yard run.

Both Tardiff and Keany, who started the season on the defensive eleven, have played more and more offense as the season progresses, sparking what had been a lack-lustre offensive unit.

The Maine cross country team picked the finest possible time to reach its finest moment of the fall season.

Maine depth gave the Black Bears a thrilling 28-29 victory over the University of New Brunswick before nearly 9,000 fans during halftime of the Homecoming football game.

St. Anselm's was third with 84 points in the triangular meet. The victory was the second straight for Maine after losses in the Bears' first two dual meets.

UNB's Bob Stewart finished first, but Maine's Steve Turner was a close second and Bears filled the fifth through ninth positions.

Except for a dual meet left with Colby, the remainder of the Black Bears' meets were championships—Yankee Conference, New England, and IC4A.

One dark spot in Maine's Homecoming celebration this fall was the Black Bears' 9-0 soccer defeat at the hands of Rhode Island.

The loss was the sixth in a row for winless Maine and left the Black Bears with only five games in which to score their first victory.

Coach Bill Livesey is in the midst of a building year, needless to say, and at times has fielded a team with nine of the 11 players lacking any previous soccer experience.

PAUL KEANY (30) HITS URI FOR 29 BEHIND GEORGE PLATTER (42)

GEORGE PLATTER (42) SCORES THE ONLY POINT IN VICTORY OVER BUCKNELL

A University of Maine basketball team that includes only four lettermen opens the 1966-67 season on December 1 at St. Anselm's.

The veterans are seniors Terry Carr, 5-10; Dave Hale, 6-5; and Rick Woods, 5-9; and junior Tom Farrell, 5-9. Two non-letter winners from last season, 6-6 junior Chip Edgecomb and 5-6 junior Dave Smith, are also on Coach Brian McCall's squad.

McCall is expecting immediate help from several sophomores, including 6-3 Jim Stephenson, 6-5 Paul Reynolds, and 6-3 Rod Macklin. Transfer Dean Chase, 5-9, is also highly regarded by McCall.

Other squad members are transfer students John Eisnerhard, 6-3; and Bob Thomas, 5-9; and sophs Hugh Campbell, 6-4; and Wil Butterfield, 6-3.

The complete schedule lists, Dec. 1—at St. Anselm's, Dec. 10—Rhode Island, Dec. 13—at New Hampshire, Dec. 17—at Massachusetts, Dec. 28-29—LeMoyne Tournament at Syracuse, N.Y., Jan. 9—at Colby, Jan. 11—at Bowdoin, Jan. 13-14—Vermont, Jan. 31—Bates, Feb. 4—at Connecticut, Feb. 6—at Boston University, Feb. 8—at Bates, Feb. 13—Connecticut, Feb. 15—Bowdoin, Feb. 18—at Rhode Island, Feb. 22—Colby, Feb. 25—Massachusetts, Feb. 28—New Hampshire.

Philip (Brud) Folger, a native of Farmington, has replaced Tom Reynolds as varsity ski coach and Bob Pickett, Maine's new freshman football coach, will handle the frosh ski team.

Folger, who also coached freshman soccer and will handle both varsity and fresh tennis, is a graduate of Middlebury College.

Maine and Colby College will be co-hosts for the NCAA Ski Championships March 2-3-4, 1967 at Sugarloaf Mountain. Folger is now involved in preparations for that meet that started over the summer.

The University of Maine will make an eight-game spring baseball trip into the Mid-Atlantic area this coming spring.

Included on the tour are games with St. John's, which finished third in the NCAA World Series last June, and Villanova, always a strong independent.

The entire trip schedule:

March 25—at Villanova, March 27—at Fairleigh-Dickinson, March 28—at Rutgers, March 29—at St. John's, March 30—at Columbia, March 31—at Princeton (two games), and April 1—New York University at Princeton.

Maine's Royalty

Susan Derosier, the 1966 Homecoming Queen, was introduced (left) at halftime to the nearly 9,000 fans attending the University of Maine's Homecoming football game with the University of Rhode Island October 22.

Miss Derosier, a junior from Presque Isle majoring in elementary education, was selected in balloting by the Maine student body and was crowned the previous evening at the Homecoming Ball.

The 20-year-old daughter of Mrs. Cecile Derosier and the late Fred Derosier of Presque Isle, Susan is five feet, four inches tall, weighs 120 pounds, has hazel eyes; and brown hair.

News on Campus

The University of Maine has grown to such an extent in recent years that close to 6,000 undergraduate students are now enrolled at Orono and nearly 15,000 students are enrolled throughout the state in all programs.

There are 6,325 students at Orono, including 1,020 seniors, 1,184 juniors, 1,570 sophomores, 1,549 freshmen, 480 graduate students, 12 fifth-year students 130 special students, 36 three-year nursing students, 333 two-year students, and 11 others.

There are 1,027 students on the Portland campus and 95 students at the University of Maine School of Law for a total of 7,447 full-time students. More than 7,000 have enrolled for Continuing Education Division Courses at various U-M centers throughout the state, giving the university an overall enrollment, both full-time and part-time of 14,447 plus.

Associate Prof. James M. Clark has been appointed assistant to the president at the University of Maine.

Prof. Clark also retained his academic title of associate professor of political science when he assumed the new post September 1.

He joined the Maine faculty in July, 1960, as an assistant professor of government.

Prof. Clark, 36, received a bachelor of arts degree from the University of Michigan in 1952 and a master of arts degree in political sciences from the University of Philippines in 1955.

Capt. Alfred D. Damour, M/Sgt. George E. Pritchard, and SFC Alfred A. Hoffmann have been assigned to the Department of Military Science at the University of Maine, replacing four members of the department who have been transferred to Viet Nam in recent months.

Capt. Damour is principal advisor and instructor of all junior cadets in the Reserve Officers Training Corps, Sgt. Pritchard is military science instructor for freshman cadets and rifle coach, and Sgt. Hoffmann is chief administrator of the ROTC Instructor Group.

Former members of the Maine ROTC unit sent to Viet Nam are Major Clifton H. Deringer, Jr., SFC Paul D. Chartier, SFC Floyd E. Holmes, and S/Sgt. Robert Spencer.

Frank W. Hagan '33 has joined the University of Maine Extension Service as coordinator and administrator of Title I of the Higher Education Act.

The University has been designated by Gov. John H. Reed to administer the act in Maine. Twenty colleges in the state are eligible to utilize the funds.

Claude L. Hough, 56, assumed the post of director of development at the University September 7, having served previously as the executive director of The Principia College Patrons' Association.

Hough, who succeeds Peter Crolius, will be the university's principal fund-raising officer for the Orono and Portland campuses and for other branches and units of the state university.

Dr. Edwin Young, president of the University of Maine, recently completed a 24-day trip to Southeast Asia under the auspices of the U. S. State Department.

As an advisor to a Southeast Asian plan to develop an extensive program of regional education, Dr. Young met with representatives from Thailand, Malasia, Laos, the Philippines, Singapore, and South Vietnam.

The regional program is an attempt to pool resources and develop educational opportunities that the countries could not economically provide separately, according to Dr. Young.

The plan is still in the confidential stage. Dr. Young and his wife Phyllis spent an average of three hours daily traveling and Dr. Young was often at the conference table another five hours daily.

Dr. Hans Weisz of Lincoln, a native of Vienna, Austria, and Dr. Russell Lane of Blue Hill have joined the staff at the university's health center.

Dr. Weisz replaced Dr. Dean Hutchins, now on a two-year leave of absence to work in a special World Health Organization program to eradicate measles in Africa.

The University infirmary handled 34,700 students visits last year, according to Dr. Robert Graves, the director, and with the increase in enrollment, the increase from two to three full-time physicians was necessary.

CHAPEL HILL SCHOOL

Est. 1857. Chapel Hill is a girls' school offering carefully supervised College Prep & General Courses in Grades 9-12. Applicants are accepted from U.S.A. & many foreign countries. An enrollment of 165 allows for small classes, individualized attention. Although only 10 miles from Boston, the 45-acre campus offers a country atmosphere. Special classes in English for foreign students, "How-to-Study" and College Board Review are offered. Also, Typing, Art, Music, Drama. Excellent library. Social events are held with boys' schools close by, and athletic teams compete with local girls' schools. An 8-week SUMMER SESSION, Grades 7-12, offers credit in review and new subjects. Riding, outdoor activities. Pool.

327-0 Lexington Street
Waltham, Mass. 02154

Fifty University of Maine Travelling Art Exhibits are now on tour of Maine schools in the fourth year of a program which brings together the works of contemporary Maine artists.

The shows are designed to acquaint school children with the work and styles of the state's professional artists. The exhibits, crated and matted for hanging, are sent to the schools for a month at a time, and each school is responsible for sending the exhibit on to its next destination.

Dr. W. Harry Everhart, University of Maine zoology professor, has been named by Gov. John H. Reed to a subcommittee concerned with water resources planning and program coordination.

Dr. Everhart is also chief of fisheries for the Department of Inland Fisheries and Game. The water resource planning subcommittee is one of several subcommittees of the Governor's advisory Council on Outdoor Recreation and Natural Resources.

Four University of Maine alumni will do field work for the State of Maine Talent Utilization Agency, a federal program sponsored by the University.

Stanley M. Ferguson '52 of Madison, Ernest Saunders, Jr., '36 of Lewiston, Donald M. Bruce '60 of Orono, and Bert L. Pratt, Jr., '43 of Caribou will work with school superintendents, guidance counselors, civic groups, and others.

Known as scholar scouts, the men will work to identify youngsters with advanced educational potential and to encourage these students to continue their education through high school and into the post high school and college level.

Ferguson will work in schools in Somerset, Knox, Lincoln, Sagadahoc, Kennebec, and Franklin Counties; Saunders will cover Cumberland, York, Oxford, and Androscoggin Counties; Bruce will work in southern Penobscot, Hancock, Waldo, and Piscataquis Counties; and Pratt will be in Aroostook, Washington, and northern Penobscot Counties.

University of Maine alumni, ages 23 to 35, are invited to apply for the White House Fellows program, which gives young men and women chosen from business, law, journalism, the universities, architecture, and other occupations high-level experience with the workings of the federal government.

Working as assistants in the executive branch, those college graduates chosen receive stipends of up to $15,000 for their year in the program.

Applications for next year's program will be accepted until January 6, 1967 and can be obtained, along with additional information, from Thomas W. Carr, Director, Commission on White House Fellows, The White House, Washington, D. C. 20500.

NEW DORM COMPLEX SEEN FROM ANDROSCOGGIN HALL ROOF

The Building Boom

The University of Maine, both at Orono and Portland, is in the midst of a $15,672,857 building boom.

Nineteen construction projects, most of them scheduled for completion before next fall, are either in the planning stage, out to bid, under construction, or nearly completed.

Funds for the projects, 16 on the Orono campus and three in Portland, have come from two referendum votes authorizing $12-million for housing and capital improvements and from the legislature, which allocated $4-million for capital improvements.

The Orono projects include:

A housing complex to include three dormitories and a dining hall. Work has started and completion is slated for September, 1967.

A new zoology building, which has been started and is to be completed by November 1, 1967.

A new forestry building, which will be placed out for bid shortly.

Renovation of Fogler Library was completed for the opening of school in September.

Expansion of the central steam plant, which is to be finished by the end of the year.

Students Planning Pool

With the enthusiastic backing of Edwin Young, University of Maine students are well on their way towards realizing a long-time dream.

Fund raising has begun and plans are being drawn for a $225,000 recreational swimming pool to be built behind and connected to Lengyel Hall, the women's physical education building.

Under the direction of John Gooding, the student chairman, pledges of over $14,000 have been received from upperclassmen and a continuing campaign will be aimed at freshmen and other students who have not contributed.

The pool, to be housed under a permanent plastic dome 120 feet in diameter, would be a year-round facility and would fill a crying void in the recreational opportunities provided for the rapidly expanding student body.

Approximately $8,000 have been left by graduating classes to be used towards a pool and the students plan to ask the state legislature to provide the balance of the necessary funds.

However, before asking the solons for funds, the student committee is aiming for 100 percent participation of the campus community. Faculty and staff members have indicated that they will contribute to the pool, which would also be available for their recreational use.

The alumni have not been asked to contribute, but have been asked by Gooding to provide moral support and influential backing rather than monetary support at this time.

In June, alumni voted approval of the project, which originated with the students.

Fall 1966

Dear friends and former students -

Being the custodian of a page of this issue my chore has quickly and honestly become one of the happiest endeavors of my years of association with the University - TO PERSONALLY THANK YOU.

Thanks for what, perhaps you are asking. For the annual support, small and large, that you as alumni and friends have provided. This enabled the staff of your University's Department of Student Aid to assist over 900 worthy, undergraduate, students with financial grants during the 1965 - 66 college year. It would be extremely difficult for each recipient to express his appreciation directly to you - but it is possible for me, through this medium and in a collective fashion, to pass along the warm and heartfelt expressions of gratitude which we have received from hundreds of those who had such assistance. $267,000 in available monies is a cold, stark figure for one year of allocation. Much of it was made available to the University for student assistance because of your interest - and perhaps, in part, by your thoughts or memories of similar situations in earlier college years.

Thank you - and with great appreciation.

Sincerely,

Robert C. Worrick '43
Director of Student Aid

GAA Plans European Tour

A 22-day tour of Europe next summer has been planned by the General Alumni Association for University of Maine alumni, faculty, parents, and friends.

A complete and detailed outline of the tour can be obtained by writing the GAA, 44 Fogler Library, Orono, Maine 04473 or Dittmann Tours, Inc., PO Box 199, Northfield, Minnesota 55057.

The escorted tour will leave New York by jet liner on July 17, 1967 for London. Following a visit to England, the tour will continue through Denmark, Holland, Germany, Austria, Italy, Switzerland, and France. The tour will leave Paris on August 7 for New York.

The complete tour price is $895 per person and includes air transportation between New York and Europe, all transfers and transportation within Europe, hotel reservations in twin-bedded rooms with private baths, most meals, sightseeing entrance fees, service of guides, and many other features.

This tour is being handled by a professional tour company which has had years of experience in handling alumni tours of this type.

The group will be accompanied by professional tour guides throughout and a member of the university staff will act as the tour director.

Before leaving the United States, each person will receive information on clothing, shopping, currency, and many other items to help in individual preparation for the trip.

FACULTY

COLONEL (ret) FRANCIS RUEU L. FULLER. Col. (ret) Francis R. Fuller, 76, of Orono, on Oct. 10, 1966, in Bangor. He was a native of Pawtucket, R. I. He was a 1913 graduate of West Point. He served as head of the Military on two tours of duty at the University of Maine as Lt. Colonel 1941-1943, and as Colonel 1946-1950. He also served at the University of Idaho and attended War College in Washington, D. C. He was awarded the French Croix de Guerre with palm leaf and the Legion of Merit. Survivors include his wife, Martha L. '50, of Orono, two sons, and one sister.

'96 Put down on your trips in Maine for 1967 a visit to Lore Rogers and the Lumberman's Museum at Patten. You may spend a half day and still not take in all the interesting equipment, memorabilia, and vehicles used in the lumbering industry from earliest time. Lore Rogers, himself, was busy cataloging and setting up articles when we from the Alumni office stopped by in August. He and Mrs. Rogers have also set up a picnic and camping area in Patten.

Pearl Vinal Vincent sends a thank you for the birthday cards, as have many others. Nice to hear from her in Arcadia, Florida.

'03 A call on Harvey Whitney, class secretary, found him in good health and wishing that some of his classmates would send him a bit of news.

'04 Allen Knowles of Winter Park, Florida, and a friend visited the Alumni office in August.

'08 Mrs. Warren Trask, Sally to her '08 friends, was on the campus in August to attend the graduation of her granddaughter, Sidney Ruth Gates of Wilbraham, Mass. Sidney received the degree of Bachelor of Science in Education at the Summer Commencement.

Madge Fellows, Ray's widow, passed away last summer after a lingering illness. Madge was a charming hostess at our class reunions at the Fellows Farm on Verona Island.

Leslie and Christine Sargent, Philip and Rebecca Emery and Claude and Irene Meserve observed their 55th wedding anniversaries in October; the Sargents on the 3rd, the Emerys on the 10th and the Meserves on the 14th. Congratulations.

We have had pleasant alumni contacts during the past summer with calls on Alice Phillips, Tom Fessenden and his daughter Eileen, Herbert Bachelder '05 who was visiting his sister-in-law Mrs. Rensel Colby, Donald Lovely '31 of Lincoln while we were at camp at Enfield and a delightful cruise on Penobscot Bay with Fred and Catherine (Sargent) Marston phy of life for our age-group. She was expecting her son, Paul, and family for a visit soon. Mattie has not seen her grandchildren in three years.

Everett Southwick has written me several good letters in recent months. He is still at Kimball Bird Sanctuary in Bradford, R. I., where he makes friends not only with human visitors but also with a host of God's creatures of the woods. He lives a good life—as active as he wishes to pace it.

Harold Miller has been laid up with a broken bone in his foot. Believe it or not, he was digging for a porch foundation at his old house in South Berwick where he and his sister now live. A heavy cast was his penalty for undertaking a tough job. You know Harold, it could also happen to a youngster. Harold has a lively interest in all engineering matters and especially in the controversy now going on in Maine over public versus private power.

"Giant" and Frieda Pray have put in a busy summer at Jack O' Lantern Inn in Woodstock, N. H. "Giant" describes one exciting event that occurred there. "Penelope," the female of a pair of swans, hatched three cygnets on the small lake on the grounds, much to the delight of the Prays and hundreds of guests. All who saw them being trained by their parents were much amused and Giant thinks they are the most photographed birds in New Hampshire.

The "Clint" Plumlys and the Knights had a very pleasant visit and luncheon in Portland recently. Both "Clint" and Katherine seemed in good health and spirits.

CLASS NOTES

'06 A bequest of $93,287.40 has been received by the University of Maine Foundation from the estate of Harry E. Emery, late of Bangor. The terms of the bequest stipulate that the income from the fund which is to bear the name of the donor, is to be used for loans to "well deserving students at the University of Maine giving special consideration to students from Anson Academy and members of Beta Theta Pi Fraternity." Mr. Emery, active in alumni and class affairs at the University, died in 1961.

60th Reunion — June 2 & 3, 1967

'07 We held our "Little Reunion" on Saturday, July 30, at Kobs Lobster Pound, Searsport. Those present with wives were Barrows, E. Lambe, MacDonald, Swift, Talbot and Wymen.

Ben Williams was the single man. We sure missed Walter Farnham who was coming but was stricken with a fatal heart attack. Mildred (Mansfield) Martin expected to come but her arthritis acted up. A nice shore dinner and then adjournment to the shore for a talk.

A letter from Dana R. Beal, Fullerton, Calif., in regard to his father, Arthur Beal. Arthur is in very good physical health but has had hardening of the arteries for some years. He is in a convalescent hospital in Fullerton.

A letter from Mrs. Guy Roberts, Santa Paula, Calif., says she and Guy were in good health. They live in their own home and Guy had a garden which they enjoyed.

Terschak Bye, Portland, called on us on a trip to Bangor but we had not moved in from our Pitcher Pond cottage, so he missed us. He left a note saying that he was in good health but his eyesight was becoming poor. He is still working at the Casco Bank, Portland.

Jerome B. Clark, Los Angeles, Calif., has recovered his health again. However, his wife had a fall and broke a small bone on her spine. She has been confined to her bed and wheel chair.

'22 in their cabin cruiser Roma II. Their guests included Mary (Wheeler '22) Tyack and Mr. Tyack — Mary is a sister of Ella (Wheeler '19) Harmon. Also hospital calls on Harold '14 and Margaret (Holyoke '15) Adams in Bangor where he was a patient and a call on Lore Rogers '96 and Mrs. Rogers at their home in Patten including a visit to The Lumbermen's Museum of which he is the Founder and Curator. While at Camden harbor with the Cobbs we met and chatted with Albert Whitmore '06.

'09 Mrs. Thomas Gunn (Cora Shaw) spent the month of July in Bangor with her daughter Mrs. Wayne Evans and family. A recent letter expressed her loneliness at her home in Pittsfield, Mass., after a month with a family of ten.

Joe and Margaret Gerrity have spent their usual busy summer—long weekends at York Harbor and mid-week in Newton. Recently they attended a meeting of the Jackson Laboratories Trustees in Bar Harbor.

"Putt" and Mildred Bruce and Walter Harvey were among the few of our class who attended alumni doings in June. Putt and Walter are of that ageless breed who think all who are not bed-ridden should get to Orono in June and October. More power to them! Putt was honored by his fraternity—Sigma Nu for "Distinguished Service" to his chapter.

Early in the summer Harold Rich was put to bed because of poor circulation. He says he is getting too much rest and Frieda none at all. We hope he has improved by now and is about as usual. They have been among the most loyal of "Naught-niners" on all occasions.

Walter Harvey has written and phoned me quite frequently in recent months. He seems as rugged and active as ever.

Mrs. Olaf Anderson (Martha Knight) writes that she has good and bad days (as most of us do) but she has a very wholesome philoso-

'11 Raymond W. Davis of Guilford, "Jeff," has retired as president of the Guilford Trust Co. after being associated with the bank for 53 years, first as sec. and treas. then as its president from 1928 to his retirement. He will still remain as a trustee and member of the executive committee. Ray is best known to many Maine men as a trustee of the Univ. of Maine with a long and illustrious record of achievement and was president of the board from 1952 to 1955. He was given an honorary degree of LL.D. in 1957, in recognition of his great service to the Univ. of Maine.

Had a card from Marty McHale that he and his "bride" just returned from the Baseball Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N. Y., where they witnessed the ceremony of the installation of Ted Williams and Casey Stengel into that famous group of baseball men. Marty knew them both well. Marty tells of his joining the Red Sox back in 1910 in an article in "Rod & Gun."

In last July's Alumnus I told the story of the work of Seavey A. Piper as chairman of the State Soil and Water Conservation Committee. Seavey Piper has been further featured in the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture Magazine as the outstanding advocate of soil and water conservation which is greatly needed in many parts of the U.S., particularly in the dry section of the country as in Arizona, New Mexico and California.

Albert and Madelyn Conley had to go to Alaska this Summer to keep cool. They write from Harrison Hot Springs, B.C., that they are on their way home from a trip to Alaska and the Yukon.

Back in Maine the Lou Geerys one Sunday in August invited the Ben Whitneys and your sec. to their place at Hancock Point, a beautiful spot looking out on the bay.

55th Reunion — June 2 & 3, 1967

'12 Reunion weekend in June found two sons of Alden Chase, Gordon '41 and Faulkner '41 enjoying their 25th reunion, while Gordon was also tendered a 25th year citation for his managerial work with Sears and Roebuck Co.

June Kelley, our vice president, spent two weeks at Bayside this summer.

Sympathy is extended to Luther Russell, of Kents Hill, on the loss of his wife, Pauline.

Summer was a most beautiful one this year in Maine and I hope that those of you who live outside the State, now had the opportunity to come back home. If you could not make it I do hope you will get back to the University this fall to some of the football games and attend "Homecoming"—the foliage should make your trip both ways a most enjoyable one.

A brief note from Muriel (Young) Maines tells us that she has two grandchildren now attending the University, Linda L. and Steven J. Maines, who are the children of her son, John T. '40 and Julia (Holmes '45) Maines. So glad to hear of this, Muriel, and also to learn of the outstanding job son John is doing in the paper business.

Got a card from "Flicky" Richards who came East this Summer from St. Louis but only was able to get as far as Boston where sight-seeing was the order of the day. Thanks for the card. Hope some day you will make up your mind to come and bring your family back to Maine to live.

The sympathy of the Class is extended to Mrs. Barford and immediate family on the death of John Wallace Barford, Kinderhook, N. Y., on June 10.

Christopher S. Roberts of Rockland died July 16. He was a graduate of the University of Maine Law School '13 and was a well-known trial lawyer. We extend sympathy to his widow, Mrs. Adah Burns Roberts and the immediate family.

'14

Class secretary, H. P. Adams, is taking a forced vacation (because of a heart attack) at St. Joseph's Hospital, 297 Center St., Bangor, Me.

'15

Three members of the class were present in June for a class meeting on Reunion Weekend. Present were R. H. Fogler, H. P. Sleeper, and Laura Hodgkins Jackman. Officers elected: Pres. Fogler; Secretary, treasurer, and class reporter, Sleeper. Merton Banks registered for Saturday events.

'16

Several of you have written or phoned me to say what a good time was had at Orono and Blue Hill in June. I believe Jack Leacock wins the Black Bears cup prize for exuberance and enthusiasm. He had written me in July of the Orono doings and this fall a long part-two letter all about the Totmans' wonderful party. In fact, Jack broke his writing-hand thumb when this was being written and completion was delayed six weeks.

The reunion rejuvenated Ralph Fannon so much he has taken on a sales job on the West Coast.

Lawrence Philbrook, Chairman of his New Hampshire county's Rural Area Development Committee, has been named by Gov. King to membership in a committee to draw up plans for the long-range park use of the summit of Mt. Washington. The committee will report to the chief executive and the State Div. of Parks.

Marlborough Packard exhibited his paintings at a Foxcroft Academy fair and at his Sebek Lake home.

Bangor Attorney Edward J. Conquest was recently feted by co-members of the Maine Bar in celebration of his 50 years of membership.

Awards are yet coming to Dr. Walter D. Emerson, the most recent having been a Distinguished Service Certificate of the National Council of State Boards of Engineering.

Sympathy is extended from his classmates to Maynard Jordan, whose wife, Ada, died on September 23.

50th Reunion — June 2 & 3, 1967

Charles Crossland and his wife entertained all four of their children and families recently; Mr. '43 and Mrs. '43 Carleton Crossland, and their son Stephen, U.S. Marine Corps, of South Pasadena, California; Mr. '45 and Mrs. Donald Crossland and four children, of Littleton, Colorado; the Rev. '53 and Mrs. '49 Frederick Robie and four children, of Sanford; Rev. '50 and Mrs. Elton Crossland and two daughters, of Greenville, New Hampshire.

Shep Hurd and his wife spent a month, this summer, in Europe.

Don and Frances Crowell are leaving soon for an extended trip to Europe and the Holy Land. They will join their daughter, Jane and her husband in Rome. Sam Morse, Jane's husband has been an Exchange Professor of Modern Poetry for the past year, at the University of Canterbury, at Christ Church, New Zealand. Jane got her Masters Degree at Maine, and Sam was a professor there for several years.

Carl Johnson called on Fred Sargeant, of Coral Gables, while he was in Florida. He hopes that Fred will join us next June.

According to Charles Crossland, Dr. Fuller Sherman shot a 77 in his golf, recently, and is ready to take some of you on next June.

Russell Greenwood has been located at 2660 East-Tom Sawyer Drive, Reno, Nevada; Rudolph Stoehr lives in Orwell, Vermont.

Lost alumni: Can you send us an address for any one of them?

Mr. Stanley B. Parker, Mr. Lawrence L. Post, Mr. Albert J. Fortier, Mr. Wilton S. Jardine, Mr. Herbert P. Halvorson, Mr. Frank W. Harris, Mr. Marshall S. Campbell (maybe in Sarasota, Fla.), Mr. Edward A. Hyland, Mr. Brooks Light, Miss Dorothy Wells, Mr. Joseph W. Moulton, and Mr. Yee Tin Hugh.

Ray E. Phillips emerged from the "lost" list onto the front page of the Bangor Daily News, with a photo. The article said "The hermit of Manana took leave of his remote island home 10 miles off the coast of Port Clyde to visit the mainland . . . His white wintry beard and shock of hair flowed about his head as a light breeze picked up while he waited at the boat landing at neighboring Monhegan Island. The hermit would spend a 'week or two in Boston to hear the crashing and clanging sounds of the city'. . . The craggy, lonely rock of less than a quarter mile in length, with a single tree growing from its northernmost point, has been home for Ray Phillips for more than 35 years. As a young man he first sailed into Monhegan in a small sloop, liked the islands and built a shack on Manana. . . . He now has a complex of six buildings which climb the jagged island where his sheep graze . . . He is a gregarious hermit . . . During the trip to Port Clyde he joined in a hootnanny held by several teen-agers."

I wrote him at Monhegan, and he replied more quickly than I expected, remembering my easy ways with the girls (!) as a freshman. He said "I'm not a hermit. I'm a Bohemian, playing with lambs and children. I have peace, serenity and security." He was a chemist in New York City after WW I.

In spite of the heart-breaking loss of Sam Jones who "spark plugged" our plans for our 50th reunion in 1969, we will carry on. Ralph Wilkins has agreed to take over as class treasurer. Dwight Demeritt will carry on as class president.

Many cards were returned with regrets about attending our reunion last June. Bill Elsworth, Ella Harmon and Etelle Carlson and Les Kimball, all of California reported "good health" but couldn't make the long trip. H. R. Mac-

Donnell of Rye, N. Y., was recovering from a heart attack and could not attend.

Rendall Williams was unable to attend our reunion last June because of illness. Best wishes for your recovery.

Received a long letter from Stacy Bragdon recounting his long experience in the field of education and his forthcoming retirement from the Wellesley school system. On June 23rd he was presented a plaque by fellow Kiwanians in honor of his long service to Kiwanis and the school system.

Bob Chellis writes that poor health caused his early retirement from Stone & Webster Corp. and he is now writing a book on Ocean and Underwater Engineering. Bob has also produced some beautiful etchings.

Vern Wallingford is recovering from a serious illness, but is planning on representing Maine at the inauguration of the new president at Lindenwood College at St. Charles, Mo. on October 20th.

Congress recently passed the bail reform bill patterned after the Manhattan bail project started in 1961 by the Vera Foundation. Louis Schweitzer of our class was a leader in this project.

Elliott Hall has retired to his home town of Vinalhaven after many years in New Jersey with Western Electric Co. and is active in the Vinalhaven Historical Society.

Christine Northrup writes enthusiastically of her round the world trip last spring visiting Japan, Taiwan, Hong Kong, India, Egypt, Palestine, Italy and many others. She promises to be on hand for our 50th.

Sam Collins recently suffered a serious loss when the S. W. Collins Co. planing mill at Caribou was destroyed by fire.

Remember our 50th in 1969!

Our sympathy to Lena Page Spaulding whose daughter died June 3. Lena writes: "I took over the running of the home and I have been very busy—Mary Anne 5—Jimmsy 7—Eileen 13 and Eugene Jr., 16. I haven't had a spare minute!" Our sympathy to Fran Bartlett Ames and her children in the loss of Ivan.

Two weddings to announce: July 23—Mrs. William Eaton Ferry and Walter W. Chadbourne. The Presbyterian Church of the Covenant, Wilmington, Delaware. At home September 1, 536 Ruston Drive, Georgian Terrace, Wilmington. August 27—Miss Alice Brewster and Bentley Barbour. 30 Riverview Terrace, Brewer. After a wedding trip to Canada at home at 30 Riverview Terrace.

Florence MacLeod Ramsay wrote in June that since John died in 1959 she has kept herself busy with substitute teaching and her four grandchildren.

Thanks to Kid who sent the two-page write-up and pictures from the Boston Record-American of August 13. Ray Boynton was in Lisbon, Portugal, August 6 for the dedication of the 6,495 ft. Tagus River Bridge, the fifth longest in the world. The main span 3,323 ft. between the piers is the longest outside the U.S. The bridge was begun November, 1962. Ray made 6 trips a year to visit the site, each trip lasting 1 or 2 weeks. Best of this report is the paragraph from Elva. "The dedication was like something from the pages of medieval history. It lasted four days and four nights with plenty of pomp and ceremony. Our "Chick", her husband "Bob" and our 14 year old granddaughter, Kerry went with us. We went on to Madrid, Mallorca and Andorra. Wonderful weather, a wonderful trip and so wonderful to come back home." (Please see obituaries.)

P-nut Snow Cross writes: "Granddaughter Susan Underwood was married in Essex Conn. Jan., '66 to Gary Lundquist, a lunar geologist of Boulder, Colo. Susan is a Senior at U. of Colo. and winning acclaim for her originals in sketches, oils, jewelry and prints. Great-granddaughter Kimberly is a year old living on a ranch in Wheatland, Wy. Grandson Jeffry Cross is a freshman at Bowdoin taking Pre-med. Son

Hugo is science teacher in Darien, Conn. and a tennis pro in Westport, summers."

Verne Beverly wrote: "Amy and I took a 20 day cruise with United Fruit line in March. Went to Jamaica, then through the Panama Canal up to Golfito, Costa Rica and return. Needless to say we had a fine trip. We leave about October 10th to drive to Los Angeles. We jet to the National Association of County Agents Annual Meeting in Honolulu October 27. Previous to the meeting we take a four day trip to the near-by islands. On our return to L.A. November 7 we plan to spend some time in Arizona on our way back to Sarasota. It means I will have to miss some U of M football this fall."

In May, Allyn and Bacon published Linwood Chase's book A Guide for the Elementary Social Studies Teacher. Linwood writes: "This summer for 8 weeks we were on another trip abroad, revisiting and also some new places in Switzerland, Austria, Germany, and England. While Hazel settled down in England to study with a tapestry weaving teacher, I took off for Carlo and then spent two weeks with my son who has just become the chief political officer in the American Embassy in Damascus, Syria. The middle East was an entirely new experience."

'21 From Peg Blethen: "Soon after the best reunion ever, I have a most delightful tour of the Scandinavian countries."

From Leah Ramsdell Fuller: "We're on a 41 day Arctic cruise—we've been to 'top of the world'—seen the Arctic Ice park, glaciers, icebergs—been to Land of Midnight Sun—seen a herd of reindeer (600-800) going up 'slope in Norway. Oh, it's been heavenly!"

45th Reunion — June 2 & 3, 1967

'22 Here we are starting another college year and this is an important one of us with a reunion in June. I hope to see many of you at the class meeting, to be held at Homecoming.

Parker Patterson had the honor of representing the University of Maine when a new president was inaugurated at Oklahoma State University on Oct. 21. Parker lives in Oklahoma at 2227 E. 22nd Place, Tulsa.

Fred and I had the pleasure of going to a lovely buffet dinner party on Labor Day Sunday at the home of Donald Perry '18 and Cora Mae (Phillips) Perry '21. They live at Sunset on Deer Isle. Guests were all Maine people, coming from as far away as Belfast, Orono, Northeast, Southwest, and Seal Harbors. Foster Blake was also there from our class with his wife, Dorothea. In all, six classes were represented.

An item from Hampden: Earl McGraw, superintendent of SAD 22, and his wife, who is secretary to the superintendent, retired this year. They were honored at a surprise assembly at the G. B. Weatherbee School recently and were presented with gifts from the students in appreciation of the help given them over the years.

'23 Some of you did not get your questionnaires returned to me in time to be included in the class letter.

Twice, this summer, I had the pleasure of chatting with Gladys Staples Colburn who has charge of the gift shop at the Jordan Pond House. She spends the winter in Seal Harbor.

Elizabeth Harkness has retired from teaching but she has not lost her sense of humor. She lives in Lincolnville and for "position" she said, "On my knees, digging cutworms in the garden." Dr. Arthur Wilson was honored by the YMCA: "For Service to Youth" in Providence, R. I. Mabel Peabody Wilson is President of the Foster Library as well as grandmother to 8.

Parker Patterson '22 who is President of the Patterson Steel Co. in Tulsa, Oklahoma, sent the clipping telling of the "Meritorious Service Award" given to Clayton F. Jones by the Dept. of the Interior, in recognition for his service as a general engineer at the Bureau of Mines Petroleum Center in Bartlesville, Okla. for 20 years.

Henry Doten reports that we now have $1,531.79 in dues and $388 in the gift account. We have a reunion in two years so we had better be fattening up the kitty.

We have lost three more of our members. Our most heartfelt sympathy to the families of Lionel E. St. Pierre, Arthur E. Rogers, and George A. Vose.

'24 It seems impossible that time has gone so fast that we are at the beginning of another academic year.

Dr. Howard L. Bowen of Hallowell received the Block M award for outstanding service to the University of Maine. Incidentally, Governor Reed, who presented the award, stated that since his graduation from Maine, Howard has contributed selflessly to the cause of education throughout the State. Congratulations Howard.

Mary Friend was recently honored at the awards assembly of the Skowhegan High School for her twenty years of service in teaching at that school.

Edith Beckett is Librarian at Calais Free Library and has served in that capacity since 1950.

Irene Guppy Parsons is teaching at Ashland High School.

Paul M. Croxford obtained his Master's Degree in August. See '31 for news of his wife Erma.

Lt. Col. Tobias C. Eastman who was killed in action in World War II, has had a signal honor bestowed upon him through the efforts of Father Leo W. Nugent. Rev. Nugent spearheaded a movement to have Camp Dachau—formerly a prison camp in Germany, renamed Eastman Barracks. While this may be cold comfort to Mrs. Eastman who lives in Fryeburg, Maine, we hope it will be spiritual solace. The class is proud of Tobias.

The Littles had one of those fairy story weeks at the Univ. of Maine in June when the new A and S building was dedicated in honor of my husband and I was given an Honorary degree, Doctor of Humane Letters. We both felt very humble and happy about the whole thing. We had a gathering of the clan and you might be amused at what our seven year old grandchild said when someone asked him what he liked best about the new building. He had sat quietly through the speeches but discarded his angelic wings fast when he replied: "The EXIT."

'25 Al Repshaw, American Embassy, Box 10, FPO New York, 09527, sends greetings from Assiut University, where he with a team of nine other U.S. professors are on a U.S. Aid assignment for a 2-year advisory and teaching project. Al is on leave from Louisiana State. Al says, "Finding this assignment most interesting. Assiut is a new school of about 10,000 students with better than 300 engineering students. It is 240 miles south of Cairo on the Nile, not far from the Luxor and Aswan Dam. It is a city of a quarter million people. Chances of rain once in 25 years." Why not send Al a "shower" of letters? In June, Al was made a Fellow in the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. Lafayette Chapter of the Louisiana Engineering Society has presented him a plaque for "the member of the Year". Congratulations from us all!

Dr. Clyde Swett has been named chairman of the Committee on Development at Ricker College, Houlton.

Major Betty (Cooper) Cantor, has been appointed to a position on the Wing Staff of the New Hampshire Wing, Civil Air Patrol. Betty has been a member of CAP for 11 years in Maine.

Cliff Irish has a freshman son at the University this fall.

Don Dressel, looking real young in a picture in the newspaper, is with the regional office of the General Service Administration.

Hope you did not miss the citation at U of M's August graduation when Lincoln (Mack) Sennett was the recipient of an honorary Doctor of Pedagogy. Mack also holds an MA (1932) from Columbia University. He is president of Washington State College, Machias.

Aaro Kaakinen is connected with cruise ship operations and is out of the country much of the time.

Anne Fuller Linn's daughter, Mary (Linn '51) Roby, is really "authorizing" in addition to teaching at Orono High. She has three books (mysteries) already published, the last one in England this summer, and has sold several stories to Alfred Hitchcock, of which two have already been published in his magazine.

"Cobe" Coburn retired to Bowerbank, but, disliking Maine winters, has built a house on Sanibel Island in the Gulf of Mexico, offshore, s.w. of Fort Myers. He signs his letters "apprentice beachcomber".

Ray Burton has moved from Miami to Fort Lauderdale, Fla. Not retired, are you, Ray?

Arline Lynch is N.E.A. Director of Bangor Teachers Assn.; hostess committee of Bangor's BPW Club, Mainspring correspondent of Delta Kappa Gamma, and secretary to the Southern Penobscot U of M Alumnae. Oh, yes, she is also teaching school at Bangor Junior High on Union Street.

'26 The following items were noted from the "returns" of the questionnaires sent out at Reunion time.

Effie Bradeen Ridley—writes that they were unable to return for Reunion as Don was recovering from surgery at the time. They have 16 grandchildren. John K. Schroeder—still Principal of York High School. Edward F. Stanton, M.D.—has moved to a new office at 935 Park Ave., N. Y. 10028. We learn that his only niece was married at the time of our Reunion, otherwise we would have had the pleasure of his company. Carl Bischoff—was recovering from a bout with pneumonia at the time. Better luck at our 45th. Lawrence Buck—sent word from Tehran, Iran that at the time he was busy "helping the ministry of Posts, Telephone & Telegraph, get some modern communications in Iran. It is rather a long way to come for a Reunion—hurry back for the 45th. Charles Hammond—writes that a few weeks previous to our June date he came in contact with a train, the resultant broken leg and ribs made a trip to the campus impossible. George Littlefield—busy time of the year for him. Theodore S. Rowe—Just couldn't make it. Emily Pendleton—In May, Emily moved into a new home in Bay-side Northport. On August 27th she entertained a reunion of Alpha Upsilon members of Delta Zeta, with 14 U. of M. Alumnae present, two from the class of '26. Emily lives in Florida in the winter. Gerald Wheeler—Supervisor of the White Mountain National Forest has been appointed to the Summit Planning Committee for a long range plan for the summit of Mt. Washington. Kenneth O. Plumer—In June retired from the New England Telephone Company after being employed by them for 41 years. The occasion was noted by a party of 75 people at the Pilots Grill in Bangor.

John A. (Jack) Pierce, Mrs. Pierce and their son Robert, Arlington, Mass. were callers in "Jack's" home town of Orono, in August. John is a senior Research Fellow at Harvard, where he has been since 1934, except for the World War II years which he spent at M.I.T. One of his latest interests is work on radio aids to navigation and in August 1965 he read a paper on OMEGA, a navigation radio aid, at the International Navigation Congress in Munich, Germany. He is the recipient of a Presidential Certificate of Merit, the Morris Liebmann Prize, the PGANE Pioneer Award of the IEEE and the Thurlow Award of the Institute of Navigation. Maybe some of you will remember that "Jack" is a grandson of Dr. Merritt C. Fernald, first president of U of M.

Another engineer, Raymond H. Morrison, in company with his son, Bruce, recently made news in Bangor when his company, Northern Supply Company, announced the opening of a new warehouse, sales and display facility. At present this is the only wholesale and retail school supply business in the state. It also does business in Vermont and New Hampshire. Besides son Bruce, 17 year old Nancy, a Bangor High senior assists during the summer. Following graduation Ray got his master's degree in 1932.

William N. Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Harris, Augusta, has received a Master's degree in business administration from Northwestern University, Chicago, with a major in corporate finance. William received his BS from Boston University in 1961 and is employed by Sears, Roebuck and Company in Chicago. Classmate Charles and his wife attended the Northwestern U ceremonies.

Remember Mary McGuire, who had a finger in just about every pie on campus? Well, she's now Dr. Mary A. McGuire, associate professor of English and chairman of the English Department and recently named Buhl Professor at Chatham College, Pittsburgh. The Buhl Professorship is awarded each year by the Chatham Board of Trustees to a faculty member in the humanities with the rank of assistant professor or above. She holds an M.A. and a Ph.D. from Columbia University.

Dr. Frederick H. Thompson has submitted his resignation as a member of the Portland Renewal Authority. We are sorry to hear that it was "for health reasons" that Fred decided to resign from this activity.

Mr. and Mrs. (Edna Cohen) Jack Rapaport, Bangor were awarded a seven-day Caribbean cruise aboard the luxury liner S.S. Independence, in August, to St. Thomas, Virgin Islands, San Juan and Puerto Rico. Jack represented one of 570 Lincoln-Mercury dealerships nationwide which were winners in a "Caribbean Capers" sales contest.

Blair Wilson is head of the Melrose (Mass.) science department where, since 1936, he has been a teacher. Soon after arrival he discovered there was a golf coaching vacancy. Blair had never played but was interested, so he applied. Up until nine years ago it was an unsalaried job and he often used his own car to transport the players. In the past eight years Wilson-coached teams have compiled a 74-1-1 record with 70 consecutive victories, their last loss being to Stoneham in 1960 and the tie with Reading coming the same year. Blair was the subject of a recent feature article by the Boston Globe.

Part of my summer was spent at Ann Arbor, where my son, Eldwin, Jr., ('53) was completing 14 months of study towards his doctorate in Mathematics at the University of Michigan. I attended the Summer Education Conference held at the University for teachers in the state.

"Bobs" Parks of Concord, Mass., executive vice president of the Howard D. Johnson Co. of Wollaston, Mass., has been made vice president of the National Restaurant Association.

"Whit" Wheeler is president of the Kennebec Valley Community Chest.

Karl Larsen has been appointed Ford Professor of Physics and Chairman of the Department at University of Bridgeport, Bridgeport, Conn. Karl has been acting president of Onodaga Community College in New York State.

Caroline (Collins) Lowell is teaching freshman English in MSAD3, Mountain View High School. Younger son, David, is in Business Adm. at Maine, Class of '69.

Roger C. Wilkins, Senior Vice President, Travelers Insurance Co., Hartford, Conn., has been named to the advisory panel to select an architect for the first phase of Hartford's proposed school building program.

'30

The fall season rolls around and I wish that more of you had checked in during the summer with news. I did notice that Ralph Corbett had retired after many years with the University. I wonder what his future plans may be? I hope most of you saw the article by Louise Bates Ames that appeared in the August Readers' Digest.

Mr. and Mrs. Breinert Madsen of Alexandria, Virginia—Ruth Taylor to us—recently celebrated their 25th anniversary in Orono. They have a married son Roger who lives in Stillwater.

The Byron Gilmore Agency of Bangor, with which Verrill has been associated for many years, has recently incorporated under the name Davidson-Gilmore.

Frank and Ruth (Shurtleff,) '35 Goodwin have a daughter teaching in Frankfurt, Germany this year. She sends glowing reports of her interesting work there.

'31

All classmates have received a letter from our new Class Agent Don Henderson explaining how your contributions to the General Alumni Association may also increase our class fund. We hope you will all support this new system and reward Don's efforts.

Class prexy and "Bee" (Carter '30) Cushman have bought a new home in Orono at 5 Cedarwood. "Bee" teaches at Orono Junior High and Parker is Director of Engineering Services on the Campus.

Erma Devereux (Mrs. Paul) Croxford earned her certificate of Advanced Standing, her sixth year at Maine. Erma teaches in Portland. Husband Paul got his Master's at Maine this August.

One of the new teachers in the Augusta schools this fall is Patty Barton Painter. Patty is teaching grade four at the Lincoln school.

The American Institute for Property and Liability Underwriters has announced that Union Mutual Life Insurance Company's Vice President, Alfred W. Perkins, CLU has been granted the designation, Chartered Property and Casualty Underwriter. Al was granted his M.A. degree following two years of teaching Math at Maine. He did further study in Actuarial Science at the University of Iowa. He joined the Union Mutual Life Insurance Co. as an Associate Actuary in 1947. He was named Second Vice President in 1950, and six months later was promoted to Vice President. In 1964 he earned the C.L.U. designation. The Perkins make their home in Portland, and are owners of Seal Bay Camp for Girls at Brooksville. They have two children.

The Kennebec Journal recently published a picture of Louis Krieger marking his thirty-five years of service with the Central Maine Power Co. Louis worked for three years as a distribution inspector at 11 power stations. In 1959 he took his present job as manager of production operations. The Kriegers live at Manchester and have two sons. He is a director of the Union Water Power Co. and the Kennebec Water Power Co.

During the 1966 Season, Maine's Massachusetts House Workshop Gallery, Lincolnville, exhibited the work of Phil Brockway from July 17 until August 2nd. This is a favorite stop for many out-of-state tourists every summer.

Geneva M. Smith was honored at the June Commencement exercises at Plymouth (N. H.) State College for completing 42 years of faithful service in the Mathematics Department. At this occasion it was announced by Dr. Harold Hyde, president, that a dormitory be built and named for Miss Smith. After receiving her B.A. in Mathematics at Maine, Geneva received her B. Ed. at Boston University and further advanced study at the Universities of Chicago, Maine and Boston. At Plymouth, beside her teaching she sponsored the Mathematics Club and had charge of Assembly programs and Commencement programs for many years. She plans to return to her East Corinth home in her retirement.

This is to correct a news item in the July Alumnus. Bonnie Marshall, daughter of Don and Helene (Johnson) Marshall is now in her first year at The Women's Medical College of Pennsylvania.

Beatrice Spiller Nadeau is now living in Eastport after retiring from teaching in Arlington, Mass. One of the trustees of the newly formed Unity Institute of Unity, Maine is Samuel Szak. The Executive Council confirmed Clifford L. Stimpson's re-appointment to the Maine Liquor Commission. He is now chairman.

35th Reunion — June 2 & 3, 1967

Roscoe C. Masterman, employed since 1933 by the International Paper Co., has been promoted from divisional manager in Glens Falls, N.Y. to general manager of the Northern Div. of IP.

On Sept. 17, 1966, at Tamworth, N. H., Miss Susan B. Balch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Balch was married to William B. Moody, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. Rice Moody (Doris Baker), of Newport, R. I. The newlyweds are at home in Greenbelt, Maryland.

Charles L. Puffer, after 11 years as Superintendent of Schools in Kittery, has recently submitted his resignation, to be effective Dec. 1st. Charles has had nearly 40 years of experience in public education as a teacher and administrator. For the 10 years before coming to Kittery, he was superintendent at Paris. He is married, and has three grown children. Charlie will join the CED in Jan. 1967, at U of M.

Our sympathy is extended to Roland Tibbetts of Great Barrington, Mass. on the death of his wife, Marjorie, on March 26, 1966.

'33

Frank Hagan has been appointed to the University of Maine Extension Service (see campus news). J. Harvey Spear ('36) and Edith are managers and part owners of the Patio Hotel at Gardena, Calif. Those of us who knew of your move to California, Edith, are happy to learn that the Spears are enjoying their new experience.

When Dr. Jean Captain Sabine sent in her contribution to the Alumni fund, she wrote that she anticipates a visit to New Zealand in March. I do hope that you will share the highlights of your visit with all of us, Jean.

Among the thirteen young women to have been chosen All-Maine Women last spring were two '33 daughters: Barbara Lester (Marion Dickson) and Joan Yerxa (Eleanor West).

Two weddings that have taken place since our last class notes are: Marjorie Libby (Dean Winthrop '32 and Elizabeth (Tryon) to Douglas Monteith.

Jane Tompkins (Lawrence '34) to Robert Miller (Stacy '32 and Evelyn (Plummer). The newlyweds are all graduates of the University so other class secretaries will no doubt give the details of the weddings.

The engagement of Miss Peggy Ann Mattulke to Robert E. Pendleton Jr. was announced recently by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Mattulke of Hamburg, N.Y.

(Note to Blanche Henry). Sorry our time for chats was so brief this summer—better luck next time. Phyl Black Raymond was at Summer School at the same time that I was but we did not discover each other quite soon enough to do much reminiscing. See you at Vinalhaven, sometime, Phyl.

'34 It's about time I heard from a few class members who have not been reported on for a long time, so get busy with letters! Erwin A. Gallagher, a native of Limestone, has been given national recognition seldom accorded a school administrator in the Westwood, Mass. area. Superintendent of schools, he was invited to submit a short biographical sketch, to be published in Who's Who in the East. Erwin is now studying for his doctorate in a Boston University program, and has had a remarkable career in education.

Roger Hefler was recently vice president of Wilkins Coffee Co. He served in the Navy, and in 1947 joined the Wilkins Co. in Washington D.C. where the showplace plant is located. Professor Ken Parsons recently received some publicity concerning his use of turpentine for Dutch elm disease. An electrical engineer, Ken apparently saved a tree at his home which was infected. We all wish it might be an answer to this terrible plague!

Lawrence Lynch of Orrington, was named town manager of Hampden in June. Lawrence has previously been with Eastern Corporation and St. Regis Paper Co. The Lynchs have three children.

Bill Ingraham's address is 66 Rankin Street, Rockland. Carl J. Johnson, Washington, D.C., executive director, Interstate Commission Potomac River Basin, has been named to the degree of Fellow of the Soil Conservation Society of America. Fellow awards are the Society's most distinguished honors, and are made only to members of the Society who have made an outstanding contribution to natural resource conservation and have been active in the affairs of the organization. He had a leading role in the Society's 1962 annual meeting in Washington DC, and received a special citation from the President of the Society in 1962 for his service to the organization.

Our son, Jim is enrolled in the School of Graduate Study at the University, and his wife, the former Miss Susan Poore of Goffstown, N.H., is teaching social studies at Brewer Junior High School. Jim and Susan were graduated from Springfield College in June, and were married on July 9. They are living at Madison Street, Bangor.

Our daughter, Marjorie, and her husband, Jim Robinson, live in Exeter, N.H. where Jim is music instructor and director of the high school band. Marjorie also teaches music in the schools of Pembroke, N.H.

'35 Dr. Wilbert Pronovost, Director of BU's Speech & Hearing Center, was director of a three-week Stuttering Institute held at U. of M. July 11-29. Dr. Pronovost is considered one of the country's leading authorities on stuttering problems. The program was presented in cooperation with the Maine Dept. of Health & Welfare and the U.S. Dept of Health, Education & Welfare.

Carl Honer, Group Secretary at Union Mutual Life Ins. Co., Portland, has earned a Fellowship with the company. Carl has been with Union Mutual for 31 years. He and Marjorie (Church) live in Portland.

Arline Merrill Hemmerly is Director of Residence, Gage Hall, N.Y. State University College of Education, New Paltz, N.Y., a position similar to the one she held at Hart Hall at U. of M. last year. Her daughter Jane is attending drama school in New York City.

Merle Jones who has retired as principal of Kennebunkport Consolidated School and his wife Doris have moved to Windsor where they were both born. Merle received his MS from Maine in '42 and has taught for 39 years; Doris holds a BS in education and has had 34 years teaching experience.

Bobbie Lewis Kimball has resigned from her position as teacher-librarian at Waldoboro High and will be moving away from town. Where to, Bobbie?

supervisor of security and safety with Iandoli Markets in Worcester, Mass. J. Harvey Spear and wife, Edith Deane '33 are managers and part owners of Patio Hotel in Gardena, California. Any '36ers near??

Brazil is the present interesting assignment of Robley Morrison, Jr. where he is consulting engineer for Coverdale & Colpitts, studying transportation. He and wife have two children, Jane at Ricker College, and Robley III teaching in Milburn, N.J., and who attended U. of M. this summer. A gall bladder operation kept John Stinchfield from Reunion. He is Assistant Research Director with S.D. Warren at Cumberland Mills. His son Alan has completed his 4th year of the five year pulp and paper course at U. of M. and son James has completed Freshman year at UMP.

A.L. Nickerson has completed 20 years of teaching at Corpus Christi Junior High and is still at it. Daughter Lois is Lieutenant Commander, Navy Nurse Corp. in Seattle, Washington, so the Nickersons now travel northwest instead of northeast for vacations.

Carolyn Lothrop Sabin missed reunion because she was on vacation at Nags Head, North Carolina. Edith Gardner Strauch made reunion clear from Indiana, but killed three birds with one stone as she has parents in Orono, and daughter, Martha, at U. of M. Teed is employed as "Manager, cook and general flunkie" at "Jeffboat Cafeteria"—if I am reading her writing correctly. She also has two sons, Kenneth and Gardner.

30th Reunion — June 2 & 3, 1967

'37 Bruce Hutchins, Pat's oldest son received his M.S. in education from Indiana University last summer. He is a teacher and coach in Speedway, Indiana near Indianapolis.

We send congratulations to Lucien Scamman's oldest daughter Nancy '66. She and Fred Cole Jr. '66, were married in Orono last May. His son David, since completing his Air Force assignment, is now associated with Western Union, and Mary, the youngest, is a freshman at Maine.

My oldest son 2nd Lt. Stephen, is teaching in the Social Science department at the U.S. Military Academy, Westpoint, N.Y. Warren is a second semester sophomore at Purdue, Peter a senior at Indiana University. Laurie is a senior in high school and Greg our youngest, 12, has just started junior high.

Mrs. Paul E. Syster, Shenandoah, Iowa, has two sons in Doane College. One son will graduate this year and one next. They both plan to do graduate study. She is the wife of a minister.

Lloyd D. Hatfield has resigned his position as supt. of schools in York and has accepted a similar position in the South Portland schools.

Please send me a note regarding your children or yourself as I'm in a '37 news drouth here in the Midwest.

'38 Received a very nice letter from Bob Harvey in June. In May, as first vice chairman of the Melrose Red Cross Chapter, he and his wife Amy, flew to San Diego for the '66 Annual Convention and took the long way home to Boston by going up the Pacific coast as far as Portland, Oregon.

Miriam Landon Skvirsky was recently honored by the Daily News, Springfield, Mass. for her outstanding work with young children and especially teen-agers. She has two teen-agers of her own, Rachael 15 and Burt 17, and devotes many hours in working with the youth at the Jewish Community Center as part of the professional staff.

Congratulations to Don Adams, who has been elected International President of the International Material Management Society. He has brought great credit and honor to U of M as he has distinguished himself as an engineer and management executive in industry. He and his wife, Harriet, and their two children—David—18 Eleanor 17—live in Hamilton, Ohio where Don holds a most important position with Champion Papers, Inc.

Mary-Hale Furman will represent the U of M at the Inauguration of Ruth M. Adams as President of Wellesley College on Friday, October 14.

Margaret Williston Bebek attended the XIII International Conference of Social Work in Washington, D.C. in September. She was a member of the U.S. Delegation and was one of 3000 delegates attending, representing 74 nations.

'39 In June I attended Alumni Day hoping to pick up some news of our class, and out of four that registered, Spike Leonard was the only one I saw; so I gathered all the news about him. Spike keeps pretty busy besides his regular job of Professor of Animal Science and managing the University Farms, he is also on the school board, athletic board, adviser to the Senior Skulls and Phi Kappa Sigma Corp. (Treas.) His daughter Charlene graduated from the U. of M. in '65 and is teaching first grade at the Robert Hall School in Portland. His son Colin is a sophomore at the U. of M.

I did find out the whereabouts of Helen Philbrook and she is executive housekeeper at the Groton School, Groton, Mass.

The summer always brings a few get-togethers of "'39ers." Lucille (Fogg) Baldwin spent a night with me. Her oldest son Robert graduated from Dartmouth in June and this fall he will attend the U. of Washington for further study. Her next son Richard will enter the U. of Denver as a freshman. Lucille and her family went on a wilderness pack trip in Colorado this summer.

Barb (Corbett) and Tom Barker, Kay (Cox) and Johnny Bennett also spent a day with me. The Barkers are just waiting to retire and return to Maine. Are we really getting into that age bracket? Kay and Johnny are busy building a house in Damariscotta and their address is Box 395, Damariscotta.

The university received a release that Barbara Seavey received her degree of Masters of Arts at Wesleyan in June.

Venora Dow received a N.D.E.A. grant which enabled her to spend nine weeks in France studying and traveling.

Rev. Hugh Gillis assumed the pastorate of the United Methodist Church in Bolton, Conn. He has served churches throughout New England.

Erwin Cooper has just sent us a letter in regards to the fund raising efforts. I trust we will all do what we can to help our class '39 Fund grow.

'40 Dorothy Day, Providence, R.I., has been asked by President Young and has accepted his request that she represent the University of Maine at the inauguration of Ray Lorenzo Heffner as President of Brown University, Saturday October 15th, 1966.

Mrs. Catherine (Laffin) Mahoney, will teach Grade Two at the elementary school in Readfield Depot it was announced recently. Catherine has been teaching at St. Mary's School in Augusta for the past two years. She is married to George F. Mahoney '29, and is the mother of six children. They have been residents of Readfield since 1953.

William F. West has been appointed Principal of the Fairbank School, Sudbury, Massachusetts. Bill leaves the Maple Street School, Rockville, where he had been Principal and his new assignment marks another milestone in his impressive teaching career.

A newspaper article from sunny California announces that Robert Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norris Deke Adams, and a graduating Senior in Antioch High School, was named winner of the outstanding student award sponsored by the Beacon Savings and Loan Association. Bob received a $100. award and an engraved medallion. He plans to attend Stanford, where he will major in education for a career in counseling or public relations.

Virginia (Tuttle) Merrill was one of four instructors appointed to the Upward Bound Staff, at Bowdoin College a six-week Summer program, which is part of the government's war on Poverty. This program is a two-year venture designed to give some 50 high school boys and girls from rural areas in Maine a taste of college life and is geared to create a more positive response toward higher educational aspirations than the student may now have. Virginia is presently a mathematics teacher at Madison High School.

25th Reunion — June 2 & 3, 1967

'42 Some of your class officers and executive committee members met with Pres. Bill Irvine in August; and before you read this, Woody Woodward, chairman of reunion, will have met with entertainment chairmen, Mary and Larry Leavitt, and others at Homecoming to plan the biggest and best 25th reunion ever! We need you in June!

Our class was well represented at the Maine State Bar Association's 75th annual convention in August. Gov. John Reed gave the welcoming address and William Talbot, Machias, was elected President.

Pres. Bill Irvine, Martha (Allen '44) and the girls are moved into the president's house at 29 College St., Montpelier, Vt.

Our sincere sympathy goes to Muriel (Pratt) and Edward Fuller, Oxford, for the loss of their son Harold, 15, in a drowning accident.

Ralph Dale, owner of Daleng Corp. Buffalo, N.Y. recently announced purchase of the Arco-Wynn Div. of Automotive Rubber Co., Detroit, Mich. You will hear quite often this year from Ralph, your reunion contact chairman.

Earl Hodgkins who has been Chief of the Engineering and Construction Division at Dow A.F.B. Bangor, for 15 years, moved Oct. 3 to Newburg, N.Y. where he is Chief of the Facilities Construction Branch for the First Air Force, Stewart A.F.B.

Was good to hear from Elizabeth Thomas Cunningham, Honolulu, Hawaii, where she and son, Joel, have lived for nearly five years. Betty, with a M.A. in speech, U. of Mich., has established speech and hearing programs in Calif., Guam and Honolulu. Her son is a student at the U. of Hawaii.

Roosevelt Susi, Pittsfield, has been appointed to the board of trustees of Unity Institute. Morris Wing, Farmington, was recently honored as a past president of the American Forest Products Industries. Thomas and Virginia (Wing '45) Moore are residents of Saco where Tom owns the Benton Insurance Agency. Their son is at U. of M. and two daughters are at Thornton Academy.

Eugene Gilbert has been named to a newly created position where he will be in charge of finishing, warehousing and shipping at the Gould Paper Division of the Georgia-Pacific Corp., Lyons Falls, N. Y. The Board of Directors of the National Union Insurance Companies has elected Lawrence W. Davies, Pittsburg, Pa., assistant secretary of the firm's life insurance affiliate.

Bob McLeary is with Jones, Hoxie, McLeary Inc., a bonding and insurance company in Augusta. We enjoyed a visit this summer with Bill and Eugenia (Berry '43) Gilman, Old Orchard Beach. Their son, Jonathan graduated from high school in June and daughter, Libby, 12, keeps them busy attending horse shows.

A new communications network gives police the jump on fast-moving fugitives

THAT'S A CRIME!

It takes a suspect 85 hours to drive, and nearly six to fly, from New York to Los Angeles. California is ready and waiting for him just four minutes after he starts.

Reason? A fully automatic teletypewriter network just completed by the Bell System to provide better communications for law enforcement agencies from coast to coast.

The new national service, known as Law Enforcement Teletypewriter Service or LETS, cuts from days to minutes the time required to transmit criminal descriptions, license checks, bulletins and other vital police data.

The Bell System is also working on other service improvements to help combat crime and protect the public.

The reason is simple enough. We have an obligation to keep providing the best communications possible—for law enforcement or for you and your family at home.

As this is the first report of the year, and my last, I want to thank all those who have sent in news, and to remind you to send in all future notes to Fran Donovan, (Mrs. F.C.) Fran is moving to Ohio in a couple of weeks, and all mail should be addressed to her at 62 York Drive, Hudson, Ohio, 44236.

A new address for Robert Morey, Jr. is 756 E. Hall Ave. Apt. 36, Slidell, Louisiana, 70458.

Any of you who have watched the Maine football team will be interested to know that player Paul Smith is the son of Gordon Smith of Bangor.

Prominent in the ground-breaking ceremonies for the new hospital in Calais was Francis A. Brown, a director.

The Commencement exercises at Bridge Academy in Dresden were dedicated to Ruth (Lemoine) Bass this year. Ruth had taught at the Academy for 23 years, and was honored by the Alumni Association. This year Ruth will teach at Cony High in Augusta.

James E. Haggitt has been named administrative assistant to the director of research and development for the abrasive division of the Norton Co. in Worcester, Mass.

Dr. Niles Perkins of Portland has been named director of a new bureau within the department of Health and Welfare, the Bureau of Medical Care, in Augusta.

Recently elected executive vice-president of the Merrill Trust Co. in Bangor was Roy A. Ladner. Roy has been with the bank for 20 years, and he and his wife and two children live in Orono. Mrs. Ladner is the former Anna Cahill, '41.

John Chadwick of Augusta who is with the State Forestry Service, spoke recently in his home town of Houlton on Dutch Elm Disease.

Don't forget Fran out in Hudson, Ohio. She'll be waiting to hear from you.

'44

Danny West and Kenneth MacLeod have accepted the positions of chairman and co-chairman of the 1966 United Fund Drive in Bangor. They will have increased responsibility this year because the campaign will include the Orono and Old Town communities.

Mary Boone has been appointed a member of the National Advisory Board of the National Dept. of Classroom Teachers, Washington, D. C. Mary is the president of the Maine Dept. of Classroom Teachers. She also served as a delegate to the National Association Convention at Miami Beach, Fla.

Peter Macomber is stationed at the Walter Reed Army Institute of Research the past four years doing research on the mechanism of action of antimalarial drugs.

Edward Hackett is now Associate Corporate Counsel, Wolverine Insurance Co., Transamerica Group, Battle Creek, Michigan. He has recently retired from the U.S. Army after 24 years of service as a Lt. Colonel. The Hackett's and four children reside at 210 Arcadia Blvd., Battle Creek, Michigan.

Everett P. Ingalls, Jr. has been promoted to resident manager of Georgia-Pacific's Gould paper division, Lyons Falls, N. Y. Joe joined the Company, then the St. Croix Paper Co., as production manager in 1958. In behalf of the class of 1944, I would like to extend our sincerest sympathy to Mrs. Clarence Hale (Hughene Phillips) on the death of her husband in May of this year.

You will take note that I am writing the news this month by myself. My cohort is busy preparing for a wedding—hers!! We are most happy to announce that by the time you receive this, Carolyn C. Bradley will be Mrs. Stephen D. Russell. Dr. Russell is a staff physician here at the hospital and is a widower. Carolyn and Steve plan on being married October 15 at the Universalist Church, Portland. The Russell family will then include four children: Richard and Bonnie Jean Russell and Linda and Cindy Bradley. This will be a busy household when they all take residence at 408 Brighton Avenue, Portland. Many good wishes go to them from all of us here at the hospital and all of you, I am sure.

We had a most nostalgic experience when we took our daughters to Orono to start their Freshman year. Linda Bradley and Martha McFarland are members of the class of 1970. Is it possible that all that time has passed? Carolyn saw Ruth (Stearns) Shepardson during orientation period this summer, so she also has a daughter at Maine. There must be many more that we haven't caught up with as yet, so please keep us informed.

Mini (O'Beirne) Mitchell and family have moved to Commack, L. I. where her husband is Supt. of Schools. Mini recently donated a beautiful stein to the U of M collection.

Wins'ow (Windy) Work was able to spend two weeks with his family at their cottage at Lucerne this summer. Windy is now located in Phillipsburg, N.J.

Royal A. Graves, III is the new principal of the Hindly School in Darien, Conn. Royal received his M.A. degree from Harvard University in 1949. He has continued his graduate study at the University of Michigan, B. U., and Wheelock College. Royal is married and the father of two children.

More news on the education front, Eleanor (Mundie) O'Neill has been assigned to the Marion School in Southington, Conn. and will be working as an intermediate special education teacher.

Evelyn (Gerrish) Weeks has also returned to teaching and has accepted a position in the North Adams (Mass.) School system. Evelyn will teach high school general arithmetic. After graduating from U of M, Evelyn attended the Maine School of Commerce and has done graduate work at North Adams State College.

'46

Mrs. Barbara A. Hinds of Walpole, Mass. has been appointed teacher of English in the Norwood, Mass. Senior High School.

Carol Jean Griffie Porter (Mrs. Roland) is teaching in So. Windsor, Conn. this fall. The Porters live at Windsor. They have four children: Tommy 15, Jimmy 9, Linda 4, and Mark 1½.

George W. Stone has been appointed to the position of second assistant principal of Belmont High School, Belmont, Mass. After graduating from Maine, George received his Master of Education degree from Boston University, and has completed additional study at the State College at Salem and Harvard University. He has been at Belmont since 1952 having previously taught at Worcester Academy and at the high school in Biddeford.

Mildred Page Edminster (Mrs. Noah) of Orange, Mass. is teaching reading and language at the Butterfield School in Orange.

Constance Cooper was in Maine this summer on leave from her position as home economist with the United Nations Food and Agricultural Organization in Nigeria. Connie has been in Nigeria for the past three years. She will be there for eight more months at which time her research project on the needs of African families will be completed.

Harriet Steinmetz Fray (Mrs. Harold R.) of Newton, Mass. represented the University at the Inauguration of Vincent Claud DeBaun as the fourth President of Lasell Junior College on October 2nd.

News from Judy Fielder Harris (Mrs. Edward G.) via Ginny Tufts Chaplin. The Harrises were in Maine this summer for part of their vacation. They saw E'la (Page) and Ken Cobb while in Vacationland.

Jeanette Thompson Irely (Mrs. Wilson E.) is living in Rochester Mich.

20th Reunion — June 2 & 3, 1967

The Alumni Office has come through again. Wish some of you '47'ers would overcome your natural reticence and give out a few news items. Has anyone been promoted ... taken a trip ... built a house? What's new?

Alberta Haines, (Hartford, Conn.) spent the summer in Norway and enjoyed the people as much as the scenery. She said it was beautiful and the midnight sun was spectacular.

The Richard Lemays (Westfield, Mass.) were in Calif. last winter. Very pleasant in Balboa, he says. Oh boy! To winter in Calif. My ambition.

Well, we summered at Branch Pond. That's in Ellsworth! Henry was busy selling crackers, but I just "summered". No car, no phone—just 5 kids and the cat. Had a visit from Bernie '48 and Elsie Prescott and the two boys. We never do finish talking ... school, hometown. We always hate to see them go.

Here's that new address for Elaine (Craig) Carrano—Barnumville Rd., Manchester Ctr., Vt. Another change is that of the Rob't Coffin family—from Orange, Mass. to Cas-cias, Portugal where they will remain 5 years while Bob supervises construction and future production of a new factory near Lisbon.

Joe Coombs and his family are in the process of changing their residence from Portland to Bangor—he has been named ass't supt. of the Maine Central RR. A new staff member of the Jacob Edwards Memorial Library in South-bridge, Mass. is Evelyn Ashby Petrelli. John Seekins, Supt. of Kennebunk school's, was one of 4 Maine educators invited to a 3-day Wash-ington conference on "Educating the Children of Poverty". Rob't Nye has been appointed supervising principal of 4 elementary schools in Westwood, Mass.

I think we have a first for the class of '48—Francis Shaw has been honored by the board of trustees of the Northern Conservatory of Music in Bangor who named him Dean Emeritus. We hope for Mr. Shaw a very happy retirement. From N.Y. comes notice that Sheldon Smith has been named construction vice-pres. of Walter Kidde, Inc.—he joined the firm in '64 as European mgr.

While in Augusta this summer, I had a grand visit with Gracie (Tibbetts) Bean; we swapped news while our 6 offspring got acquainted. Carolyn Bean is a cheerleader at Hallowell, as is Kathy Kelly, daughter of Paulie (Marcous) Kelly, at Shrewsbury, Mass. Doesn't that bring back memories! Gracie reported that Mary and Bus Sproul are moving from Conn. to Syracuse—will try to have an address next time.

Our children are in senior high, jr. high and elementary school this year so keeping up with their activities and PTA's is a full time job. I am doing substitute teaching which I find very rewarding.

Heading this year's Community Chest Campaign in Keene, N.H. is Philip C. Dyer, who is vice-president of the Ashuelot Nat'l Bank. Al Flagg, general manager of the Milford (Conn.) Reporter is co-chairman for that city's Community Concerts Assoc. Two recent

You'll net more income from your 'Blue Chip' insurance

Ever see money work? Well, maybe you can't see it work, but in retirement you can enjoy the returns from its labor. Delightful experience.

Connecticut Mutual's retirement plans give decided 'Blue Chip' advantages. It will pay you to check the big differences: in benefits, in larger dividends to policyholders (continuous dividends for 120 years), in the wide variety of income plans available and especially in the size of those monthly retirement checks some day.

Our money works harder so you won't have to.

appointments of which '49ers can be proud are: That of Samuel S. Silsby Jr. as filling the newly created post of State Archivist and that of John Ballou to the State of Maine Museum Committee. Dr. Daryl W. Pelletier started his new post as Superintendent of Schools in Darien, Conn. Congratulations are also in store for Carroll R. McGary, Superintendent of Westbrook schools who received his doctorate in education from Harvard in June, and to Joseph Shattuck, recently elected president of the New England chapter of the Society of Fire Protection Engineers. Earl Mullen, secretary of the Bangor-Brewer Lions Club was awarded that club's plaque as winner of the Lion's District 41-0 Top Club Secretary Contest.

Priscilla Thomas (Mrs. Bernard) Rines is president of the Woman's Club of Gorham. Carol Robbins (Mrs. Robert A.) Snedeker is a bacteriologist for the State of Maryland. Bob is with the Social Security office. They have two girls, nine and fourteen.

Karlton E. Higgins started this fall as principal of the Gray-New Gloucester District High School. Previously, he served as principal at Oxford High School. Robert P. Bouchard has been employed in San Francisco in the Office of the Secretary of Defense. Bob does a lot of traveling, and has met Maine Alumni as far away as the Congo and Tahiti. So that's where you're all hiding! Let me hear from you! I did hear from Dick Perkins who is living in Windham and working for Sylvania. Both of his Children, Dana 12, and Alice, 15 had the good fortune to make trips to Europe this past summer.

'50 I wish you all could have had the wonderful summer we had. Dick and I toured Denmark, Germany and Austria the month of July and then spent August at Cundy's on the coast of Maine. My brother-in-law, Slim Broomhall, and sister Ruth '45 and their son met us in Copenhagen and were with us during the month in Europe. It took us 7 1/4 hours to fly the distance it took them to sail in 8 days! After we flew home they went on to Brussels, Paris and London and got home just in time for school.

Dave Newton and family from Seattle, Wash., have just been in Maine for a visit. Norma (Moore's '52) and George Gray are back in Yankee land living in Short Hills, N.J. George was transferred from Houston and is regional mgr. in the East Orange office of Liberty Mutual. Harriet Elwell Barnard (Dr. John '51) of Augusta was chairman of a benefit silver tea at the Governor's house. Joyce Henderson was married on June 24th to Richard E. McNally and they are living at 104 Oakwood Ave. in West Hartford, Conn. Milton D. Klein, an attorney in Brookline, Mass., has been appointed consultant on estate planning and business insurance for the Brookline office of Metropolitan Life Ins. Co. Lewis A. Crowell is President of Dunham-Hanson Co. (hardware) in Bangor. Paul Ellis is the new asst. superintendent of schools of Orleans, Eastham, Wellfleet and Brewster, Mass. Paul is working for his Doctorate's degree at B.U. Lewis Berce has been appointed an Extension agent for the University with headquarters in Houlton. Alex (Slim) Somerville is now the chief administrator at Gardiner High School where he formerly was asst. principal. Dr. David Khoury has completed two years with the Navy in Washington, D.C. and now is a resident at Boston Veterans Hosp. in Jamaica Plain. Dr. Deane Hutchins and family are in Kaduna, Nigeria, for two years. Deane is director of clinical services at the University and is going abroad under the sponsorship of the World Health Organization. Roy Joyce is now in South Vietnam as a field director with the American Red Cross. Henry Tukey and family have moved into their new home at 25 Evergreen Rd. here in Auburn. Hank is with Pineland Lumber Co. of Lewiston.

Sue Dartnell Hodge is a part-time social worker with the Manchester, Conn., schools. Dick Bleakney of Wellesley, Mass., has recently been promoted to Executive Assistant to the President of Boston Gas. Gov. Volpe of Mass. named Bob Moran of Springfield as an associate commissioner of labor and industries. A candidate for State Representative in Mass. is Bill Whitlock of Belchertown. Stan Trask is the new principal of Waterville High School. The new superintendent of the Southbridge, Mass., schools is Charles Beattie. Dr. Gerald Cohen has been appointed a Diplomate of the Board according to an announcement by the American Board of Obstetrics and Gynecology. He is on the staff of the Framingham Union Hosp. in Mass., is a consultant to the Westboro State Hosp. and an instructor at B.U. School of Medicine. Ken Allen Jr., is in charge of the Phoenix of Hartford Ins. Co.'s field operations for the entire State. Bob Lothrop has joined C.F. Hathaway Co. as a chief industrial engineer. Clyde Hayward is now in Berlin, N.H., with the Brown Co. where he is the manager of printing paper products, research and development dept.

When writing those Christmas cards this year, send an extra to me or the Alum office giving us information of you and yours. A very Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to you all.

'51 Muchas gracias, merci beaucoup, and a big Maine thank you to Claire (Levasseur) Hodgkins from all of your classmates for doing such a splendid job as class secretary for the last five years. We all greatly appreciate the work you did for us. Now ole lazy Jinx (my nickname) here would like mail from all of you. Don't be shy—write—a postal card will be fine.

Also a big thank you to Warren (Whitey) Miller who invited us all who were at reunion to his camp on Holbrook Pond. While we Millers were on vacation, we visited Dick and Shirley (Lang) Noyes in Millinocket. Dick who is assistant superintendent of the East Millinocket Mill, Great Northern Paper Works Co., gave us a full tour of the mill. It fascinated us all, and I recommend it to everyone. From there we went to Baxter State Park where the Noyes youngsters, Beth 13, Peter 8, Andrew 4 proudly showed us some moose. Our crew, Scott 13, David 8, and William 5 were delighted. We also spent a week at Sunset Harbor Camps (owned by Shirley's parents) at Moosehead Lake—exquisite country but no fish. The Noyes, gave us the following tidbits about classmates in their area: Dick Hale married Bunice (Bunny) Surrlette in June. Amongst them they have four children—Karen 18 (who is at Farmington State), Robin 13, Lee 12 and Sandia 7. Dick is an Electrical Engineer with Great Northern Paper Co.

Arthur Dentrement is Production Superintendent at Great Northern. Five youngsters keep the Dentrements busy—Ann 11, Mary Lou 10, Gary 8, Tommy 5, and Patricia 2.

Fred Bigney has transferred from Scott Paper Co. in Greenville to St. Regis Paper Co. in Bucksport. He and Frances have three children—Fritz, Marc, and Nancy.

The Gene Gammon's from Dover-Foxcroft, the Noyes' and Jim and Barb (Grover) Elliot met in Waterville for a gay reunion this summer. The Elliots and their four children live at 239 Tuttle Parkway, Westfield, N.J.

Inge (Nachum) Baye and lawyer hubby David along with Debby, 11, Lisa, 10, Richard, 4, live at 27 Ridgfield Dr., Framingham, Mass. Being neighbors and old friends, we see each other often.

Heard via Bea (Young) Carlin '49 that she plays bridge with Joan (McKay) and Ed Anania. They live in Silver Spring, Md. with their three youngsters—Jay, 7, Dale, 4, and Jill, 3.

Tommy '50 and Penny (Guptil) Higgins have moved to Wellesley, Mass. Tommy is Librarian at Weston High School. Their three youngsters are Diane, 13, Debby 10, and Tommy 7.

Saw Don and Janice (Goldstein) Povich this summer. They live in Bath with their children Elaine, 14, and Lon, 7.

Received a note from Bernie Stein Dillard. She couldn't make reunion since she had just returned the previous week from the University attending a Tri Delt affair. She resides at Bolton Rd. Harvard, Mass. with hubby Ted and two offsprings.

Also Joan (Rozzi) Martin wrote me a nice note saying she couldn't make it to campus since she, and 4 boys were waiting for Eph to return from Viet Nam.

Harvey and Selma (Gafin) Strauss live at 72 Fleming St. Lowell, Mass., along with their two boys.

Vaughn Mc Cowan now is employed as Forest Entomologist by U.S. Forest Service, Northeast District. His office is in Upper Darby, Pa., just outside Phila. The family live in West Chester, Pa.

William G. Russell has been teaching biology at Portland High School since Sept. He, wife Joan (Fuller) '56, and three boys have moved to West Falmouth.

LTC Ronald '46 and Ruby (Marston) Johnson are living in W. Springfield, Va. where Ruby is teaching. Ron is assigned to the office of the Inspector General, Dept of Army Headquarters at Washington, D.C.

R.G. Johnson is now general superintendent of the Monadnock Paper Mills, Inc. Bennington, N.H.

John N. Farrar has been appointed assistant director of the Continuing Education Division at the Univ. of Maine in Portland announced by President Young.

15th Reunion — June 2 & 3, 1967

'52 Lots of promotions this summer so here goes: Harold Snow, resident manager of the Golden Fleece Tissue Mills Division of Standard Packaging Corp. He will be manager of mills in Greenwich and Battenville, N.Y. Robert Saisi has been named principal of Wetherfield High, Conn. James I. Boyle of Simsbury, Conn. was named associate actuary in the corporate actuarial dept. of Travelers Insurance Co.

Bailey has been named priest and rector of the Parish of Good Shepherd, Rangeley. Mrs. Shirley (Durgin) Nelson graduated magna cum laude from Lesley College in Cambridge, Mass.

E.R. Huff, a member of the Univ.'s agricultural engineering faculty is currently researching testing potatoes by stretching.

Hugo Cross joined the staff of the New Milford Racquet Club this year. As in the past nine years, Hugo is a teacher of Earth Sciences at Darien, Connecticut. He holds an MS from B.U. and a 6th year diploma from the Univ. of Bridgeport. Hugo is considered one of the best teaching professionals in tennis circles, for both beginners and advanced players.

"I've built a dynamic business of my own, but I've always had time for my family and community affairs . . . not many businessmen can say that."

— Donald F. Lau, C.L.U., Detroit

"I've been a Mass Mutual representative for 26 years and almost from the beginning I was able to build a satisfying business of my own. It wasn't easy. You've got to be on your toes. Competition is keen. How successful you become depends almost entirely on your initiative. You set your own goals and work hard to attain them. But the financial rewards and the personal satisfaction you can gain are well worth the effort. "Most of my clients are busy executives and professional people, in many respects very much like myself. I've found that many of them are constantly on the road or being transferred to different cities. They haven't been able to plant their roots as firmly in any one community as I have here.

"As a Mass Mutual representative I've had time to spend with my wife and children and play an important part in the affairs of my community. Of course, I'd be involved in community activities no matter what my business, because it always has been important to me. But working locally has given me a chance to become deeply involved in many long-range community activities."

Mr. Lau has qualified for the Million Dollar Round Table, top flight national insurance organization, since 1951 and has sold 2 million dollars or more of insurance each year for the past ten years. He has earned the National Quality Award every year since 1946. Mr. Lau is one of a highly skilled group of professionals representing Mass Mutual, a company over a century old, with over $3 billion in assets. If you're looking for the same kind of satisfaction in your career as Mr. Lau has found in his, write a personal letter to: Charles H. Schaaff, President, Mass Mutual, Springfield, Massachusetts. He's always interested in hearing from a good man.

It's a good system if you like it

There are slots.
Slots need people to fill them.
Someone exists who was born and educated to fill each slot.
Find him. Drop him in. Tell him how lucky he is.
Look in once in a while to make sure he still fits his slot.

This orderly concept has much to commend it, plus one fault: some of the people most worth finding don't like it. Some very fine employers have not yet discovered the fault. It is not up to us to point it out to them. Luckily for us, we needn't be so tightly bound to the slot system.

We can offer choice. A certain combination of the factors diversification, size, centralization, and corporate philosophy makes it feasible to offer so much choice.

Choice at the outset. Choice later on. Choice between quiet persistence and the bold risks of the insistent innovator. Choice between theory and practice. Choice between work in the North and South. Choice between work wanted by the government and work wanted directly by families, by business, by education, by medicine, by science. To the extent that the slot idea helps channel choice we use it, of course.

A corporation such as this is one means of coordinating the strength of large numbers of effective persons. You may feel that in the years ahead this type of organization must change. You may feel that it must not change. Either way, to get a chance to steer you have to come on board.

Advice to electrical engineers, mechanical engineers, chemical engineers, chemists, and physicists—still on campus or as much as ten years past the academic procession: while one starts by filling a slot, it soon proves more fun to make one. No detailed list of openings appended herewith. Next week it would be different. G. C. Durkin is Director of Business and Technical Personnel, Eastman Kodak Company, Rochester, N. Y. 14650.

Ev Sherrick was a "test pilot" at twelve.

Today he tests materials to make cars safer.

Seven years before the "Spirit of St. Louis" landed near Paris, young Ev Sherrick was launching his first plane—a home-made model, powered by an outsized rubber band. His goal: to design the plane to fly as long as the power would last and to ensure a safe landing.

Now, some forty years later, as Chief Analyst of the Power Development Stress Lab at GM's Technical Center, Everett Sherrick is still concerned with safe "landings"—safe arrivals on highways, instead of skyways.

Ev started his GM career in 1925 with Cadillac Division as a draftsman, with emphasis on camshaft and crankshaft design. During World War II, he specialized on structural analysis for aircraft engines with GM's Allison Division. Today, he heads up a group of engineering specialists who test for stress . . . study structural strength of durable materials day in and day out. Their tests are exhaustive, intensive and continuous . . . solely designed to put safer, stronger more reliable cars on the road.

We count on people like Ev Sherrick. They make General Motors tick.

General Motors is people making better things for you.

Dr. Ronald M. Cilley has accepted a residency in obstetrics and gynecology at St. Josephs Hospital in Phoenix, Ariz.—Aline B. Frappier is Assistant Professor of Chemistry at Rhode Island Junior College, Providence, R. I.—Leroy P. Chipman has received a Masters degree from Springfield College—Nancy (Woods) Rearick's husband, Dan ('58), placed second in both the 3 mile run and the 3,000 meter steeple chase in the 1966 Air Force Worldwide track and field championships.—The Rev. Milton L. Smith has become minister of the First Methodist Church of Amesbury, Mass.—Lt. Antonio J. Nuccio is a tele-communications officer with the Air Force in Thailand.—Robert R. Corbeil is with the Department of Biology, South Easton Mass. Technology Institute, N. Dartmouth, Mass.

5th Reunion — June 2 & 3, 1967

'62 Here we are in our fifth reunion year but it hardly seems possible that time has gone so fast. Our activities "boiled down to a paragraph" include the portrait of former president Lloyd H. Elliott, which at this writing is almost ready for presentation to the University; our Valerie Beck Sterritt Memorial Fund continues to grow rapidly, and according to reports, our support of the General Alumni Assn. has been outstanding for a young alumni class. I'm sure we all hope this will continue to be true. Tales of the reunion Homecoming coffee will be related in the next issue, and I hope many of you were able to get back to campus for the occasion.

On with the news... John '61 and Anne (Clark) McGlincey are back in Maine after a few years absence. John is a product engineer for Sylvania in South Windham, being discharged from the Navy in mid-July. Anne writes, "we have bought a nice old house in Buxton and are very busy trying to fix it up. We're not too far from Portland but are in the country and enjoy it so much, the children, Cathie, now 3½, and Chris, 10 months, especially. We would like to hear from any of our classmates in the area."

Our congratulations to Lynne (Josselyn) Morrison who is the first Drew University student and the first woman contestant to win the George R. Crooks scripture reading conducted by the American Bible Society, judged on the basis of interpretation, diction and presentation. Lynne received her bachelor of divinity degree in pastoral care and Christian education from Drew in May, and has assumed duties as assistant minister at New Providence, N. J., Methodist Church.

Barbara Roper toured Europe this summer with a girl friend, covering the major cities on the continent. Barb is teaching this fall in Seattle, Wash., after a couple of years at Cape Elizabeth. Daniel McAllister has started his assigned duties as assistant county supervisor at the local Farmers Home Administration office in South Paris. Danny and his wife, Sally (Heath) and their two daughters reside in Buckfield. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Moody (Lauretta Foster) are in Ann Arbor, Mich., where he is an electrical engineer with Ke'sey Hayes Co., Detroit.

Dick Stevens of 117 Vernon St., Wakefield, Mass., is currently updating his address list of the fellows who were forestry and wildlife majors in our class. He would appreciate information from all of you, pretty much scattered throughout the United States. The Stevens' oldest son, Kevin, has started first grade, and at home with Joyce is Doug, who manages to keep his mother busy. Dick is an USDA inspector on international flights coming into Logan Airport, Boston.

MARRIED: Sandra J. Keenan to James Hoselton Jr. in Las Vegas, March 4, now located in Buffalo, N. Y., where James is a design draftsman for Allstates; Alice I. McKiel to Dale D. Hyerstay in Boulder, Colo., July 10, at home at 1926 Walnut St., Boulder. Alice is teaching world history at Lakewood, Colo., Senior High School; Almira Cram to Charles P. Willson of Detroit, Mich., May 28 in Falmouth; Betsy C. Tarr of Needham, Mass., to William K. Colbath; Sharon Cunningham to Alfred M. Proctor of Brunswick, residing in Claymont, Del.; Barbara A. Smith to James W. Andrews of Robinson, Ga., now of Austin, Minn.; Elizabeth Hammatt of Marshfield, Mass., to George E. Hawes. Their home is Washingtonville, N. Y.; Ellen P. Dore of Topsfield, Mass., a Bates graduate, to Wallace W. Witham Jr., at home at 53 Main St., Topsfield; Audrey L. Morse to James M. Garnett III of Fair Haven, N. J. Naperville, Ill., is their home where he is employed by Bell Telephone Lab., and Audrey is with Bell also as a computer programmer; Dorothea Lagadinou to Norman B. Stetson, now of Brookline, Mass., where Norm is a research engineer with Honeywell Research.

'63 Much news to report in this issue of the Alumnus after a hectic summer and Fall for many '63ers. My many thanks to those of you who sent cards and letters with news of yourselves and of classmates—do keep them coming. Jim is now doing public relations work for the Univ. of R. I.

Receiving M.S. degrees from Simmons last June in addition to Peggy Brooks Smith were Berry Brackett in Sociology, and Jo-Ann Chandler Mitchell in Library Science. Jo is now a librarian in the Hanover, Mass., Elementary schools. Ronald Michaud has received a master's degree in microbiology from Cornell and is currently working toward a Ph.D. there. In Rutland, Vt. with his wife and daughter is Fred T. Kinney who is the new branch manager of the Universal C.I.T. Corp. Kinsey B. Fearon, William J. Parks, Jr., George F. Wood, and Robert E. Miller were all graduated from the Univ. of Maine Law School and passed the Maine State Bar Exam in August. Bob's summer was especially busy since he and Jane Tompkins ('65) were married in June.

Wayne Thurston has returned to India for another year with the Peace Corps. This will make three years with the Corps for Wayne. Rob Shea has been named Director of Promotional Services for Part-time Higher Education at Northeastern University.

Suzanne Bentley Nico'o was back with the books this summer at Salem State College. Suzy and husband Dick are living in Beverly, Mass. At U.M. Summer School working on master's degrees were Ann Van de Bogart, Molly Jean Canders, Judy Suds Spugnardi, and Judy Phelps Johnston. Gary Dorsay is working for the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture in Washington, D.C.

Marguerite Gordon is teaching grade four in Hancock. Brian O'Connor is in the science dept. of the King Philip Regional School in Franklin, Mass. Tom Austin is the new head coach at Bridgton Academy. Teaching biology at Wells High School this year is Charles Callahan. Donna Schaffer Daly has a new position as instructor in physical education at Johnson State College in Barre, Vt. Pam Simpson is the new girls' phys. ed. instructor and coach at Georgetown, Mass., High School.

Raymond Wing was recently promoted to Captain in the U.S. Army and is currently stationed at Fort Bliss, Texas. Stationed in La. with the Army are Hensley Smith and Connie Smith. Melissa Calderwood Tukey '65 writes that husband Darold, a fighter pilot with the Air Force in Vietnam, has flown over 100 missions in his six months there. Darold is due home this October. In her fourth year teaching Home Ec. Education in East Haven, Conn. is Sandy Gass Schiff. Sandy and husband Paul live in New Haven where Paul has his own advertising design studio. REPRODUCTION FROM A SERIES, "PORTLAND IN THE 19TH CENTURY"

COPYRIGHT 1950, THE CANAL NATIONAL BANK OF PORTLAND, MAINE

The Cumberland & Oxford Canal

THE SUCCESS of the Erie Canal in New York created great enthusiasm in Maine for this new mode of transport. As early as 1791 a committee was chosen to learn the feasibility of a canal from Sebago Pond to the Presumpscot River. As a result of the committee's glowing report of its possibilities in opening up the "back country" to commerce, Woodbury Storer and other interested Portlanders incorporated in 1795 as the "Cumberland Canal Corporation." Their objective was to open a canal connecting Sebago with the river at Saccarappa. Another corporation, "Proprietors of the Falmouth Canal," was formed at the same time to unite the Presumpscot with Fore River in Portland.

Financing the project would be by popular subscription. But the general public must have been somewhat apathetic to a canal, for even a legislature-approved lottery did not yield enough money to start work. Undaunted, the promoters sought and received further aid from a sympathetic State Legislature.

In 1825 the Canal Bank, now The Canal National Bank of Portland, was chartered, with a capital of $300,000. One condition of the charter was that one-fourth of its capital stock should be invested in stock of the Canal Company.

The Canal was completed early in 1830. There were 27 locks, each named for its locality. Sometimes, there's an interesting story behind the names — for example, the lock at Horse Beef Falls. Some time before 1776 a mill was established beside the Falls, owned by a man noted throughout the area for his parsimony. He fed his workers, because that was the custom of the day, but he fed them sparingly. One day when the men were scooping their daily ration from the beef barrel, they found a horse's hoof and a horseshoe with the meat. The mills immediately became known as Horse Beef Mills, and the Falls, Horse Beef Falls. The names endured for nearly a century.

The Cumberland & Oxford Canal served its purpose well until the railroads supplanted it for freight-carrying. But to the one-time existence of the C & O, Portlanders of today owe thanks — if for no other reason than the fact that many of the beautiful old trees lining Portland Streets were freighted by Canal boat from a tract known as "Thousand Acres" along the Songo River.
